REHABILITATION WORK STARTS

LEGISLATURE WILL MEET SEPTEMBER 14

GOVERNOR SUMMONS LEGISLATURE INTO SPECIAL SESSION

RELIEF BONDS, ANTI-TRUST LAWS, MANSION REPAIRS SUBJECTS PRESENTED

AUSTIN, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Governor Miriam A. Ferguson today called the Texas legislature to convene in extraordinary session on next Thursday, September 14, at noon.

Three subjects for legislation were presented for consideration, but the way was left open for the governor to submit "other subjects and questions" from time to time.

The governor called for the passage of laws as may be necessary to issue $20,000,000 of bonds, proceeds of which would be used in augmenting federal funds to relieve persons suffering on account of unemployment.

She also asked the legislature "to consider and pass such legislation as may be deemed necessary to amend, change or repeal existing laws affecting and controlling trusts, conspiracies against trade, and monopolies.

The third item presented was "to make needed appropriations for refrigeration at the governor's mansion and needed work on the grounds of the governor's mansion."

In a special election on August 26 the voters of the state approved an amendment to the state constitution that authorizes the legislature to issue relief bonds, not to exceed $20,000,000.

Whether the legislature would authorize the full amount immediately, or issue only a part of that sum, will be a matter to be decided. Also, the manner of administering the money will be proposed in bils submitted to the legislators.

The question of modifying the state's anti-trust laws was brought up in order to permit Texas business interests to fully embrace the

Mother Leaps to Death With Babe Clasped in Arms

DALLAS, Sept. 7.—(AP)—With her infant daughter clasped tightly in her arms, Mrs. J. H. Logan, 23, plunged to death early today from a seventh-story window in Cliff Towers, the apartment where she lived.

Crashing to a concrete pavement below, the two-year-old daughter, Elaine, was killed outright and her mother died shortly afterward.

Investigators learned that Mrs. Logan's husband, a traveling salesman, was in the hurricane-devastated section of the lower Rio Grande Valley when the tragedy occurred. Efforts were being made to locate him.

Torn fragments of what appeared to have been a note were found in Mrs. Logan's room but efforts of police to piece them together were unavailing.

A coroner returned a verdict for Mrs. Logan of suicide under strain of hallucinations and for the child, "homicide under the strain of hallucinations."

Charge Johnson Plant Violates NRA Agreement

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 7.—(AP)—Eric Ross, labor union official, charges violations of the NRA at the local Lea Fabrics, Inc., factory of which Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, NRA administrator, is president, in telegrams sent today to President Roosevelt, Gen. Johnson, Secretary of Labor Perkins and the labor board of the NRA.

Ross, who is secretary and treasurer of the International Workers Union with offices here, said the Lea firm has cut the working week of its employes from forty-eight to forty hours without increasing their hourly wage which is forty cents. This, he said, reduces weekly wages from $19.20 to $16.00.

He also charges that Herbert Smalley, an employe, was discharged from the Lea factory for attempting to organize a union.

Ellery K. Flies, vice president and general manager of Lea Fabric, Inc, said he finds no basis for the charges made by Ross.

PEOPLE OF LOWER RIO GRANDE VALLEY NEED HELP AT ONCE

TERSE ANNOUNCEMENT BY SAN ANTONIO MAYOR IN RETURN FROM AREA

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 7.—(AP)—That the inhabitants of the lower Rio Grande valley "need help and must get help" was the terse comment of Mayor C. K. Quin as he arrived this morning from an inspection tour of the hurricane area.

The Missouri Pacific train which brought Mayor Quin home also brought all of the contingent of civilian physicians and most of the nurses who left Tuesday night for the storm area.

Quin visited McAllen, Harlingen, Brownsville, Mercedes, La Feria and several smaller communities which were in the path of the storm.

"Considering the intensity of the hurricane and the great property damage, I consider the loss of life, as great as it was, negligible. How those people managed to come through such devastation with no more fatalities is nearly beyond comprehension," Quin said.

"In most of the areas the property damage was 80 per cent. The storm sufferers are now entering upon a crisis which in many respects will be as great as that which they encountered when the storm was at its height.

"They are now practicaly without water. There is danger of typhoid getting hold. Food is being sent in great enough quantities to take care of the needs, but the water situation is acute. The relief trains from San Antonio had big supplies of anti-toxin and the physicians and nurses from here spent a great deal of yesterday administering this. This should do a great deal to keep down an epidemic.

Property Damage High

"The areas around Harlingen and McAllen evidently bore the brunt of the storm. For an area of 25 miles around McAllen the property damage was terrific. Cit-

FORD MOTOR COMPANY HEADS APPEAR TO BE UNWORRIED OVER ABSENCE OF BLUE EAGLE

BIG BAY, Mich., Sept. 7.—(AP)—Indications that Henry Ford may yet come into agreement with the NRA were seen today in the statement of members of the Huron Mountain Club near here that he is hesitant to give approval to the code because of certain technical features.

The club members, several of whom have had opportunity to talk with the motor manufacturer during his vacation stay at his cabin near here, did not reveal just what the technical features were that Mr. Ford objected to but indicated they dealt chiefly with the requirement of laying open his books to the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce of which Ford is not a member.

Mr. Ford left his cabin early this morning, drove to Big Bay and made a telephone call to Detroit. He then returned to his camp. It was his first trip by motor from the camp since last Saturday.

DETROIT, Sept. 7.—(AP)—The utter absence of any outward indications of concern among Ford Motor Company executives over the NRA controversy is adding strength to a growing belief that some kind of an agreement is expected to bring Henry Ford under the blue eagle's banner

There was, however, no hint of a formal announcement of policy, and no certainty that one would be forthcoming when Ford returns, probably the last of the week, from his Huron Mountain camp where he has remained secluded for three weeks.

Edsel Ford, president of the company, already was back from his vacation spent at Seal Harbor, Me., but his return developed nothing to clarify the situation.

To adopt the national automobile code and qualify for a blue eagle, the Ford Motor Co, presumably would be expected to reduce its working hours from 40 to 35; waive its traditional stand

UNITED STATES IS ON GUARD IN CUBA AFTER NEW REVOLT

INTERVENTION NOT DESIRED BUT SITUATION IS BEING CLOSELY WATCHED

BY F. G. VOSBURGH
(Associated Press Staff Writer.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. (AP)—With the dispatch of 16 destroyers bringing to 30 the armada of American war vessels to border Cuba, the American government stood ready today to land marines and blue jackets on the first genuine threat to American citizens.

At the same time, there was resolution against the momentous step of taking over theisland's government by armed intervention.

Already the psychological effect of American fighting vessels in sight off the coast was seen as aiding in holding the lid on the cauldron which Cuba has become.

Orders in the hands of the commanders of the destroyers, cruisers and the one big battleship either en route to Cuban waters or already there were guarded closely, but it was understood the administration would not hesitate a moment in putting armed men ashore to guard Americans and their property.

If a government capable of protecting life and property—including the billion of American investments—is established by the Cuban people, nothing hinting of intervention will be invoked.

Eight navy and eight coast guard destroyers were ordered today from off the east Coast of Cuba. In addition, the Indianapolis was bearing Secretary Swanson there, and last night the destroyer Overton was sent from the Canal Zone to the Isles of Pines off the South Cuban coast to protect American lives there, if necessary. Many wealthy Americans have winter residences on the Iles of Pines.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Toward Cuba, with its rumbling volcano of discontented forces, President Roosevelt's secretary of the navy sped today while the administration's decision on assuming the heavy responsibility of armed interventon hung on the fateful events of the next few hours.

Already Cuban waters bristled with American warships. Marines were concentrated and equipped as an expeditionary force at Quantico Va. Secretary Swanson hurried toward the Cuban capital aboard the swift new cruiser Indianapolis. But thus far the feared eruption which might bring bloodshed, disorder and anarchy and demand American intervention had not come.

Hoping against hope that such a momentous step would not be necessary, President Roosevelt in an unprecedented move called diplomats of leading Latin-American nations to his desk yesterday to tell them of his fears and hopes, his extreme reluctance to intervene.

He indicated that if a government capable of ruling Cuba can be constituted quickly before some

MERCHANTS EXPECT ADOPT FALL TRADE PROGRAM ON FRIDAY

With a definite program outlined for the fall and winter months until the first of the year by the members of the Retail Trade Extension committee of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce, merchants of Corsicana are expected to adopt or reject the program, or present a substitute program at a mass meeting to be held at the Palace theatre Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

The plans as outlined at Wednesday's meeting of the committee calls for drawings and free street entertainments on alternate weeks following the grand fall opening to be staged on Sept. 15. It was estimated that the cost of such a program would be approximately $150 per week, to be shared equally by those participating in the program.

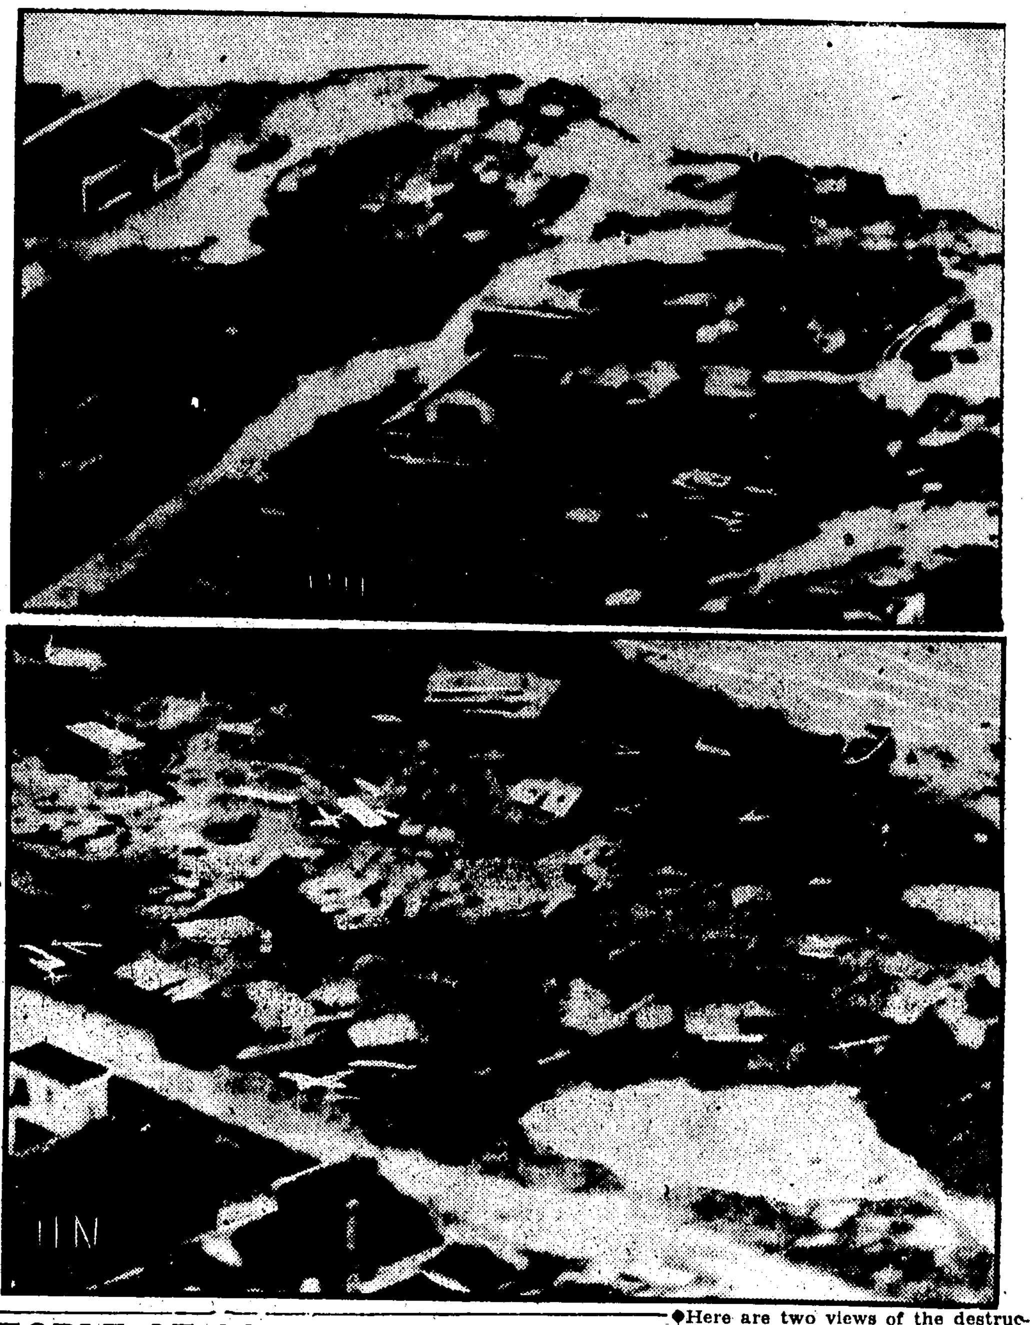
WHAT HURRICANE DID TO VALLEY AREA



Here are two views of the destruction wrought by the hurricane that devastated the Lower Rio Grande Valley Sunday night and Monday. These pictures were taken from an airplane that flew over the area soon after the height of the blow. Press dispatches indicate the entire citrus fruit area suffered in like manner.

PEOPLE OF CORSICANA AND NAVARRO COUNTY ASKED TO ASSIST HURRICANE VICTIMS

The citizenship of Corsicana and Navarro county have been officially called upon to lend financial assistance to the victims of the recent Rio Grande Valley hurricane, who have lost their all in the terrible, ravaging winds that swept over the winter garden area and in the course of a few hours turned a bright prospect for a successful year into stark, black despair as the result of the loss of their crops, homes and all belongings, besides dealing death and injury to many.

A. F. Mitchell, chairman of the Navarro County Chapter of the American Red Cross, has received appeals from the headquarters of the Southwestern area of the Red Cross, urging that immediate action be taken to raise funds for the hurricane sufferers The public is asked to send in their contributions to the Daily Sun, where they will be tabulated, and turned over to the treasurer, J. N. Garitty, at the First National Bank, or send the contribution direct to Mr. Garitty at the bank Send your checks or hand your money to Boyce Martin at the Daily Sun office and it will be turned into Treasurer Garitty daily.

Following are excerpts from two telegrams received by Chairman Mitchell in connection with the appeal and they are self-explanatory:

Confirmed reports of destruction in Rio Grande Valley hurricane justify immediate and urgent appeal for contributons to Red Cross relief fund. As communication with seriously affected area is re-established scattered reports oonfirm terrific destruction in area from San Benito south to Brownsville and west to Edinburg.

Red Cross chairman at Brownsville wires urgent appeal for medical and relief supplies for five thousand people in need. Preliminary reports state many dead, thousands injured and homes destroyed throughout area. Albert Evans, midwest disaster relief director, now in Harlingen-Brownsville area with corps of trained disaster workers and nurses Your chapter should immediately issue appeal for relief fund.

Another message reads:

Warrants Issued For Arrest Nudist Colony Members

ALLEGAN, Mich., Sept. 7.—(AP)—Nearly a score of warrants charging indecent exposure were out today, and two arrests made as Sheriff Fred W. Miller waged a campaign to close a nudist colony in Valley Township, ten miles west of here.

The warrants were the outgrowth of a raid on the Sunshine Sports league, led by Sheriff Miller who said he and his men found the colonists playing handball or swimming in Swan Creek, all nude.

Warrants were served yesterday on Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ring, Kalamazoo, Ann Arbor and Chicago. All apparently are well educated, he said, and most of them were married couples. Two daughters of the Rings, 7 and 17 years of age, were at the camp, with several other children.

Sheriff Miller said the colonists lived in small cabins roofed but having only screen walls. He saw pajamas and nightgowns hanging on clotheslines, he said.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Reports were current in oil circles here today that the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey had refused to give information and reports to the planning and coordinating committee of the oil industry now at work here.

Tyler Girl Injured.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Nadine Miller, 14, of Tyler, Tex., was taken to an Oklahoma City hospital after her mother, Mrs. E. I. Miller, drove her car into a curb while trying to dodge another vehicle. The girl's mouth was cut and several teeth were knocked out.

SYSTEMATIC SEARCH FOR STORM VICTIMS BEING CARRIED ON

BELIEVED ADDITIONAL DEAD WILL BE FOUND IN REMOTE STORM-SWEPT SECTIONS

HARLINGEN, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Army ambulance detachments today began a systematic search through hitherto inaccessible sections of the hurricane-devastated lower Rio Grande Valley for injured refugees who might be suffering for want of medical care and the necessities of life.

It was considered likely that additional fatalities would be discovered in remote communities which, because of muddy, debris strewn roads and shattered communcations, have not been heard from since the disastrous storm abated.

A preliminary survey by the Red Cross, mainly covernig that part of the stricken area linked by paved highways, accounted for 24 deaths and hundreds of persons injured. There were found to be 3,750 families destitute, 4,000 homes destroyed and 8,000 damaged.

Four persons lost their lives at Harlingen two at San Benito, seven at Rio Hondo, one at Port Isabel, two in rural communities and eight at Matamoros, the Mexican resort city across the Rio Grande from Brownsville. The mayor of Matamoros said last night that the search for victims was "just beginning."

Clearing weather yesterday allowed telephone and telegraph company repair crews to restore communication lines put out of commission by the destructive winds which ripped and tore at the rich agricultural section from Monday night until past noon Tuesday. Highways were being opened to traffic again as water standing on them slowly receded, making possible the transportation of supplies to the needy.

An appalling economic loss was registered : : the storm denuded

BELIEVED CUBA AT CROSS-ROADS TODAY FUTURE UNCERTAIN

CIVIL WAR OR INTERVENTION BY UNITED STATES BELIEVED NECESSARY

HAVANA, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Soldiers set up machine guns in uptown parks this afternoon as Havana was stirred by many confusing rumors, including an insistent report that the United States would ask the two-day-old radical government to surrender power.

A widely circulated rumor was that Washington would ask that Carlos Manuel De Cespedes, who was deposed from the provisional presidency by a radical coup d'etat, be placed at the head of the government again with a new "cabinet or concentration." Such a cabinet would include representatives of all revolutionary groups.

HAVANA, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Turbulent Cuba stood at the cross-roads today, with some political factions convinced that civil war would be necessary to solve her governmental problem, while others looked for intervention by the United States.

The radical administration which has seized power continued on the surface to be optimistic that Tuesday's coup de'etat would be successful.

Members of the provisional government declared that order would be maintained and that there

DEATH TOLL FROM TROPICAL HURRICANE REACHED 25 TODAY

DANGER OF FLOOD ADDED TO THREAT OF PESTILENCE IN RIO GRANDE VALLEY

BROWNSVILLE, Sept. 7—(AP)—Rehabilitation work and attempts to prevent disease were in full sway today as the lower Rio Grande Valley began to right itself from the effects of the tropical hurricane which struck Monday night and Tuesday morning.

The death list stood at 26, hundreds were treated for injuries and more than 2,000 families were homeless in the Brownsville, San Benito and Harlingen areas.

To the threat of pestilence which arose when the water supplies were cut off was added the danger of a flood which arose on the upper reaches of the Rio Grande. The international boundary commission at El Paso was advised that the crest of the flood, caused by heavy rains on tributaries, was moving down the river near Roma, Tex., more than 100 miles upstream from Brownsville. Commission engineers expressed fear that it might join the crest of a flood on the San Juan river and cause considerable damage in this section.

Little anxiety was felt, however, because in the last several [illegible] elaborate channels and dams [illegible] been constructed on the American side. Because of the lack of such protection, the Mexican side usually suffers more.

The sight-seers gone, the citizens had more opportunity to take stock of the damage and they gathered up far-flung parts of the homes, dried out drenched furniture and planned for the future. The citrus crop, on which so many of them depended was almost gone and they had to seek other means of earning a livelihood.

The majority of several hundred civilian physicians and nurses who came into the valley on relief trains from San Antonio and other cities began returning today, having set up the framework of the

Fredericksburg Man Slays Wife Then Kills Self

FREDERICKSBURG, Sept. 7.—(AP)—A dispute over whether Mrs. Hugo Koenig should attend the funeral of a friend, as she had desired, led to a shooting in which her husband fatally wounded her and then killed himself.

Three rifle bullets struck Mrs. Koenig late yesterday, one fracturing her spine, another penetrating her abdomen and the other shattering her left arm. Her body was paralyzed and hospital attendants said there was practically no chance for her recovery. She died later.

Koenig, 50-year-old watchmaker and carpenter, fired a bullet into his chest. He was dead when Sheriff Alfred Klaerner, summoned by neighbors who heard the shooting, arrived at the Koenig home. Mrs. Koenig was able to tell the sheriff what caused the shooting.

HARLINGEN STARTS TO WORK CLEARING AWAY WRECKAGE OF GULF HURRICANE THURSDAY

HARLINGEN, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Harlingen went to work in earnest today to clear away the wreckage of the gulf hurricane and to take care of the injured and those made homeless by the disastrous storm.

Everywhere squads of workmen were busy clearing debris from streets and pulling down dangerous portions of damaged buildings.

Many laborers, mostly Mexicans who lost all their possessions in the storm were given temporary employment by merchants who were anxious to get their places in condition to transact business.

Sightseeing about the storm area had virtually stopped, and residents concerned themselves with patching up their homes and making them habitable again.

Hotel operators were endeavoring to dry out their buildings, damaged heavily by water which seeped through shattered roofs.

Food stuffs were shipped in in plentiful quantities, and the Red Crosss was functioning smoothly, distributing food and caring for refugees.

Army ambulances continued to cruise about the damaged area, giving aid to those needing it. Approximately 200 had been treated at the emergency hospital.

Every available crew was pressed into service by Utilities companies to speed up restoration of their services.

A conference of relief agency representatives and Col. L. Brechemin, Jr., commander of the army medical regiment, w as held today at which plans were made to keep the city sanitary and to reduce the danger of an epidemic. Experts of the medical corps were assigned to aid city and county officials in sanitation work.

No Additional Cotton Checks Received Today

No additional cotton checks were received by County Agent C. C. Morris Thursday following the arrival of the first quota of thirteen a day earlier.

The county agent announced that the growers would be notified by card when their checks had arrived, and that considerable time, trouble and effort both for the grower and agents would be saved if the growers would not come in for their checks before they were notified.

ANOTHER FURLOUGH IS GRANTED GARTMAN BY GOV. FERGUSON

Sheriff Rufus Pevehouse received an official proclamation from Governor Miriam A. Ferguson Thursday granting an additional furlough to L. G. (Speedy) Gartman who has received several furloughs this year following the affirmation of his one-year sentence imposed in the Thirteenth judicial district court by the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals early in the year for the violation of the prohibition laws.

The furlough was for 30 days, [illegible] Sept. 1, and extending [illegible] 1, 1933.

It was rumored here several days ago that a pardon had been granted, but the issuance of this extension of the furlough corrected that rumor.

citrus groves of their ripening crop, valued at around $6,000,000, and levelled cotton all over the fertile valley. The damage to property was certain to run into the millions.

No Fear of Flood.

Heavy rains on the watershed of the Rio Grande especially on the Mexican side in the vicinity of Montrerey, caused speculation as to how much the border river would rise, but residents of the valley had no fear of a flood. A vast system of dykes and drainage channels has been erected to protect the "winter Garden" and it is believed adequate to withstand any rise tha tmay occur.

A regiment of the United States army under command of Col. L. Brechemin, Jr., took over emergency hospitals that had been established by doctors and nurses in from Houston, San Antonio and Corpus Christi and other points. The medical unit, Col. Brechemin said, came prepared for any contingency.

The principal concern was about the water supply of various towns and rural communities. Col. Brechemin was advising city and county authorities on sanitation and warnings were issued against drinking any water that was not known to be absolutely pure.

The medical unit brought with it typhoid serum and inoculations were begun on a large scale to forestall any possible epidemic.

Supplies Distributed.

Foodstuffs, blankets and other emergency supplies were distributed as rapidly as possible to the thousands of refugees scattered about the valley.

Three carloads of relief supplies left San Antonio for Harlingne last night in response to an urgent telegraphic request by Mayor C. K. Quin.

From Washington came word that an appropriation of $25,000 for a relief fund had been made by the Red Cross.

Rehabilitation of damaged homes was foremost in the minds of officials of the home owners loan corporation, which began an inquiry into what it could do to aid victims. James Shaw, Texas manager for the corporation, was ordered to investigate conditions promptly and wire a report as to assistance the corporation can render under provisions of the act of congress.

An Ironic Touch.

An ironic touch to the situation came in connection with a meeting of the nation's citrus growers set for today in Washington. The purpose of this meeting was to stabilize the industry through control of distribution, but Texas, which up to the time of the hurricane ranked as one of the most prolific sections, is virtually wiped out as a citrus area for the time being.

C. C. Mills of Texas, representing the Rio Grande Valley Citrus exchange and the citrus division of the South Texas Shippers' association, said 93 per cent of the Texas growers and shippers affected had agreed to the Texas plan in all its essential phases.

He said the storm damage would have no material effect on the stabilization plan, although it might make the proration feature unnecessary in Texas.

The extent of the disaster on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande, except for Matamoros and Monterrey, remained undetermined. Few reports had been received from the countless isolated villages in the area through which the hurricane whipped after passing through the lower valley.

Mexican Situation Unknown..

On the Mexican bank of the river are located numerous farming communities, some of them populous. Absence of communications has made it impossible to determine how they fared, but it was believed that destruction of property and life might be heavy there.

Dispatches from Monterrey reported one person drowned and extensive damage caused by overflowing of the Santa Catarine and other rivers in this vicinity. Houses in Monterrey were partially inundated and gas and electric service disrupted for several hours.

Direct railway traffic between Monterrey and the border at Nuevo Laredo was halted because of landslides. Violent rain storms lashed that region as the storm passed inland. All traffic over the international highway from Monterrey to Laredo and outh to Cuidad Victoria was interrupted.

Reports from towns in the northeastern parts of Nuevo Leon said that region had been hit severely by the hurricane, many houses being destroyed and crops ruined. No loss of life was reported there.

A number of large rivers drain from the Monterrey area into the Rio Gande and in the past have contributed to dangerous rises of the border stream.

Flood Control Good.

Residents of the lower valley said that the flood control system on the American bank made it virtually impossible for high water to invade the section. The levees start above Mission and are designed to handle floods of enormous proportions. Although the river was above normal at Rio Grande City and elsewhere, none was alarmed.

Residents of the valley were concentrating their efforts on restoration of homes, business establishments, citrus groves and fields nad other property—the Rio Grande was purely a secondary consideration.

With the wreckage of homes scattered over the valley, refugees took what shelter they could. Many families moved into empty box cars along the railroad lines. Others salvaged their sodden belongings from roofless houses and camped in tents or buildings that had withstood the terrific storm.

Three Hard-Hit Cities.

Brownsville, with a population of around 30,000, Harlingen and San Benito were hit hardest. By some miraculous break, Brownsville, although practically every building in it was damaged, had no fatalities. The people warned of the impending disaster in ample time to seek shelter, crowded into the sturdiest buildings until it spent its fury.

A report from Port Isabel, a town on the Gulf of Mexico 20 miles northeast of Brownsville, revealed that one man was killed there and every building in the town wrecked. Boats were cast up on shore, some of them being hurled as far inland as the railroad tracks. Fifteen were injured at Port Isabel, none seriously.

Col. Sam Robertson, resort owner, and five others who weathered the storm on Brazos Island escaped injury although a number of cottages were razed. Col. Robertson was brought ot the Mainland by the coast guard.

Two boats anchored at the Padre Island coast guard station were lost.

Lives Lost At Rio Hondo.

Rio Hondo was struck a fearful blow, several lives being lost there and between 40 and 50 persons suffering injuries. Most of the casualties were caused by tumbling houses. It was at Rio Hondo that food was scarce and a serious shortage of water existed. City officials appealed for aid. Trucks of water were sent out from Brownsville.

At Brownsville relief agencies were caring for more than 500 families. A bread line was formed at reconstruction finance corporation headquarters. A relief train reached Brownsville from San Antonio, bringing food, medicine and other supplies. roperty damage in Brownsville was near the million mark.

For more information in the threatening conditions in Cuba, the President looked to Havana where Ambassador Sumner Welles worked day and night and where Secretary Swanson will arrive on Friday.

The presence of the cabinet member will give the President the benefit of the judgment of two trusted advisors instead of one, although Swanson Wirelessed back a denial that his visit had special significance, insisting he was stoppng off on a trip to the West Coast only to "visit with" Welles at Havana.

Figuratively, eyes throughout Latin America were turned to Washington, perhaps with many brows raised in exceptation of intervention as though getting ready to give an "I told you so" look. Mr. Roosevelt apparently chose to look the lookers in the eye and tell them in effect that if intervention does come, it will only be with extreme reluctance.

Watching Cuba Closely.

While doing the telling, he has kept his finger to the Cuban pulse. Should the pulse beat at too hot heat, should Welles signal that foreign life and property are threatened, then would have to come that decision fraught with so much significance.

There was no saying for certain that intervention would be resorted to, even them. Present chances appear to favor any middle course that would save the situation so far as the over 250,000 foreigners were concerned, leaving Cuban affairs strictly to their own people.

But the administration frankly feared for the safety of the thousands of United States citizens in the island as well as the billion dollars of American capital invested there.

Far - reaching responsibilities were involved in intervention, a right conferred on the United States by the treaty which granted Cuba its independence after the Spanish-American war. It was exercised only once, under the Theodore Roosevelt administration in 1906 to 1909.

Marines or troops, once landed, might have to stay for months or even years, as that experience showed. Almost inevitably intervention would mean the loss of some American lives.

In money, too, the cost would be considerable.

Eevond and behind all this is the danger that the action might be misconstrued among the other nations of Latin-America and a blight cast over the entire Roosevelt foreign policy with its emphasis on closer trade relations and the attitude of the "good neighbor" toward the countries of the Western hemisphere.

JONATHAN, FAMOUS FRIEND, WAS A PRINCE IN CHARACTER *

Romantic Relation Between Saul's Son And Hero David, Who Was Given His Place on Throne—A Story of Finer Side of Young Manhood.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

[illegible] of the common sights of [illegible]ient is two young men [illegible] along a road, hand in [illegible] friendship is more demon[illegible]here than in the colder [illegible] And it is more roman[illegible] highly prized than with [illegible]

[illegible] From our familiar Lesson story [illegible] get the figure of speech com[illegible] applied to two close men [illegible] —"like David and John[illegible]," we say. That was a great friendship because it was between two great characters. Men may be "buddies" or "chums" without either possessing especially notable qualities; but it takes persons with stuff in them like Prince Jonathan and Hero David to provide such an instance of real friendship as we study today.

When Prince And Hero Meet

"Ascend a step in choosing a friend,' says the proverb. Both these young men did so. David we aready know. It was after his heroic conquest of Goliath, when all the army was at a high pitch of enthusiasm over his exploit, that the king's son, Jonathan, first met David; who, in achievement, modesty and poise was an early Lindbergh. With youth's proneness to hero-worship he at once became devoted to the giant-killer. Heart answered to heart; there was immediate recognition of congeniaity, of affinity, on both sides. Nothing is more beautiful than the attraction of two high-souled, idealistic young men to each other. Destiny was at work that day, when David and Jonathan each saw in the kindling of the other's eye a kindred spirit. The fact that one was a crown prince was matched by the prestige of the other as a national hero. This was no mere "prince and peasant" relationship. In friendship's scales, both weighed alike.

A Prince Indeed.

Although King Saul had already begun to develop those traits of character which ultimately cost him and his family the throne—jealousy, suspicion, egotism and mad fits of temper—his oldest son shared none of them. Jonathan was a singularly royal spirit; just, equable, magnanimous and loyal. So a bad father may have a good son. Although he proved himself a valiant warrior, there was something almost feminine in the prince's romanticism.

Kingsley's famous explanation of his succes was, "I had a friend." Tennyson's poetry reached its height in his meditations upon his friend, Arthur Hallam, whose early death stirred the depths fo his being. Friendships shaping hand showed itself in the lives of both David and Jonathan. They both met the test, "A friend loveth at all times."

The Rage of a Mad King.

Saul's jealousy had reached murderous heights. The repeated successes of David in battle caused the singing women to [illegible], when they went out to meet the conquerors:

[illegible]aul hath slain his thousands,
[illegible]nd David his tens of thousands"

That rankled in the breast of the half-mad king. He came to hate the hero whom he had honored. He even tried to pin David to a wall with his hurled spear, and the latter's escape only increased his fear of the young man, in the consciousness that Jehovah was with him.

In his rage, which blinded him to reason, Saul even commanded Jonathan to slay David. Instead the prince warned his friend, and even placated his father for a time, so that David was restored to favor in the palace as before.

Another victory for David over the Philistines only revived Saul's jealousy; and again he made repeated attempts upon his life with his own hands—once being deceived by his daughter, David's wife, who put an image in her husband's bed, after having let him out through a window. (What lively incidents crowd the pages of this Book of Samuel!)

A Prince, a Boy and Three Arrows

All these plottings and dangers were matters of confidence between the two young men. And Jonathan took the side of his friend against his infuriated and unreasonable father. "For he loved him as he loved his own soul."

So they arranged a strategem whereby Jonathan would reveal his father's mind and David's fate. David was to conceal himself in a field, and Jonathan would go forth with his bow and arrows, as if to hunt. If he should cry to the boy who accompanied him to retrieve the arrows, "Behold the arrows are beyond thee,' it would be a signal for David to flee. If he said, "Behold, the arrows are this side of thee", it would be a sign of safety and David might return to the court.

Then Jonathan returned home to study the signs of the royal temper. These proved worse than ever. Saul gave vent to an outburst, not only against David, but against Jonathan as well, for being his friend. He warned his son that if David lived he himself would never succeed to the scepter. So Johathan knew full well what it would cost him to save his friend's life. But when did true friendship ever put self-interest above the welfare of a friend?

Therefore, at the agreed rendezvous, Jonathan gave the appointed signal of danger. But he was not content with this. He bade the lad return home with the bow and arrows; while he himself sought out David for a last interview. "They kissed each other and wept one with another.

A Friend As Fugitive.

Thenceforth David became a hunted man. Saul sought him reentlessly. More than once the fugitive could have slain the king, but he would not lay hands of violence upon God's annointed. While hidden in the wilds, David was one day sought out by Jonathan. Here is the succinct record:

"And he said unto him, Fear not; for the hand of Saul my father shall not find thee; and thou shalt be king over Israel, and I shall be next unto thee; and that also Saul my father knoweth. And they two made a covenant before the Lord; and David abode in the wood, and Jonathan went to his house."

Jonathan came to a soldier's death when fighting the Philistines. Saul, trapped, fell on his own sword. That was an hour of rejoicing for the foe; and they cut off the dead king's head and hung his armor over the altar at Asthorath at Beth-shan, and displayed his body on the wall.

When David heard the news he uttered the lament that is called the "Song of the Bow:"

"Thy glory, O Israel, is slain upon the high places!
How are the mighty fallen!

How are the mighty fallen in the midst of the battle!
O Jonathan, slain upon thy high places.
I am distressed for thee, my brother Jonathan:
Very peasant hast thou been unto me:
Thy love to me was wonderful,
Passing the love of women."

Second-Generation Friendship.

David did not forget his vow to Jonathan. After he had been soundly established upon the throne, he learned that his friend's lame son, Mephibosheth, lived, apparently in poverty and hiding. He had the youth brought to him, and restored to him all the lands of Saul; and decreed that the lame prince should always eat at the king's table.

Friendships that extend from generation to generation are especially fine. One of the delights of maturity to me is the fact that my sons are close friends of the sons of my own closest friends There is one such friendship that has carried on ever four generations. What more precious can a parent hand on that a faithful friendship?

Noble, chivalrous, great-hearted Jonathan still lives as an inspirer to friendship. Old commentators often likened him to Jesus; the Friend who "loveth at all times" and "the Friend that sticketh closer than a brother.'

NAVARRO COUNTY COTTON GROWERS AT DALLAS MEETING

Six Corsicana citizens attended the cotton conference held in Dallas Tuesday and reported considerable satisfaction over the results of the meeting, accordingly to County Agent C. C. Morris. Similar meetings were held Tuesday at Atlanta and Memphis.

C. A. Cobb, cotton administrator, was the principal speaker at the session at which a majority reported themselves in favor of a forty per cent reduction over a five year period. The entire cotton acreage is to be totalled according to the plan, and then the decrease allocated to states, counties and even down to the individual farms.

Growers will be recompensed with payments ranging from $3 to $11 according to the yield from 75 to 500 pounds of lint to the acre, to be paid in three installments during the year and in addition to profit from a domestic allotment tax on American consumed staple. Final details are yet to be completed.

Mr. Morris reported that no new land could be included under the plan and that staple off the new land would have to compete in the world market.

Among those making the trip were J. N. Edens, C. C. Morris, C. L. Moore, Joe B. Fortson, J. R. Donnell and A. A. Allison.

MOTHER CORSICANA MAN DIED IN WACO; BURIED ON TUESDAY

First Checks In Payment Plow-Up Cotton Received

Navarro county's first quota of checks for cotton acreage destroyed were received Wednesday morning by County Agent C. C. Morris, including 18 checks for a total of $4,110, and represented the returns from the first 13 certificates of performance forwarded to Washington from this area.

Growers were notified Wednesday that their checks were available and local officials were busy on their distribution plans. Additional checks are expected to arrive in Corsicana by each mail from this time on, Mr. Morris said.

Information For Women Who Donate To Christmas Bags

For the information of the various Women's organizations that annually donate articles for the Christmas bags which the Red Cross assembles to be sent to men of the army, navy and marine corps, ill in hospitals abroad and stationed on the most remote posts, Mrs. R. B. Mitchell, executive secreatry of Navarro county chapter, American Red Cross, authorizes the following:

Mrs. Andrew G. Steele has been named by Miss Ethel Mae Tatum chairman of volunteer service, as the chairman of the Christmas bag project this year.

The Navarro quota is twenty bags. Through the courtesy and co-operation of Camp Fire Girls, under supervision of Mesdames Suttle Roberts and A. W. Roggers, the bags have been made and are ready for distribution.

As to the contents, the military and naval authorities have stressed the importance of having the bags and contents as nearly uniform as possible, so that one man does not receive a great deal more than another. It is requested that each bag contain four standard gifts listed below and in addition six gifts chosen from those listed in the optional group. No gift of a perishable nature must be included.

Standard: Playing cards, 1934 pocket diary, housewife, and writing paper. (The paper must be in box form about the size of a book so that the edges of paper and envelopes will be protected.)

Optional: Pocket knife, tobacco pouch, cigarette case, pipe, puzzle, key ring with fastener pencil handkerchief, shaving soap; tooth brush, tooth paste, small comb in case, wash cloth and soap.

The contents of the bags should be attractively wrapped and tied. It is the greeting rather than the value of the contents that merits our efforts in this project and all Red Cross chapters are being urged to stress this idea of making the gifts Christmas-like in appearance.

It is suggested than an enclosed post card bearing the address of the donor with a slip attached reading "Please let us know on this postcard if you like the bag" will probably bring an acknowledgement.

An inspection committee will be appointed by Miss Tatum to check the contents and correct any ommissions before shipment. Mrs. Steele will assemble the bags immediately as quotas should be at San Francisco by September 15th.

This year Mrs. Steele and her mother Mrs. W. M. Mash, have made the housewives which are required articles and they are to be filled with 2 darning needles, 8 sharp needles (large eyes 6 safety pins about 2 inches long, 6 black and white hooks and eyes, strong thread, skeins, khaki black and white linen thread buttons, khaki black and white 6 of each put on safety pins. If impossible to obtain the thread in skeins, unwind about 1-4 of the thread from spool and wrap it around pieces of cardboard, notching edges to keep thread on.

FREESTONE COUNTY VILLAGE OF KIRVEN BOASTS OF FOUR SETS OF TWINS 21 THIS YEAR

KIRVEN, Sept. 6.—(Spl.)—The recent election in this city revealed a fact of which few villages of the size of Kirven can boast. There are four sets of twins, all boys, who were or will be twenty-one years of age during this year. The oldest of these twins, Joe Raymond and Rufus Radford Hogan were born on February 29, and were twenty-one sometime between the last day of February and the first day of March. The next set, Ray and Raymond Milligan, attained their majority on March 31. The third set reached manhood June 21. They are Frank and Bill Teer. The fourth and last set will be 21 on November 23. They are Dave and Bill Nettle. The last two sets lost their fathers when they were very small and have been reared by widowed mothers with large families.

Twins in all these families were novelties except the Teer family. The mother of Bill and Frank Teer gave birth to triplets five years after the birth of the twins, however only one of the trio is living.

The only one of the octet who is married is Joe Hogan who took unto himself a bride on September 1.

The boys vary greatly in size, the smallest, Bill Teer, weighing slightly over 100 pounds, while the largest, the Milligan twins weigh over 200 pounds each. The Hogan boys and the Milligan twins resemble their respective twins greatly but Bill Teer looks no more like Frank Teer's brother than he does Dave Nettle who does not at all resemble his brother Bill.

Three sets of these boys cast their votes in the recent special amendment election but it would be unfair to ask how each voted.

Pig Owners Asked to Get In Touch With County Agent Morris

Navarro couty growers who have pigs under 100 pounds and piggy sows between 240 and 275 pounds that they wish to sell to the government are asked to communicate immediately with County Agent C. C. Morris at the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Morris stated that he was not authorized to issue shipping permits on the hogs to the various markets but that he was in position to aid the local farmers if they cared to take advantage of the opporunity immediately.

CORSICANAN TALKS BEFORE BUSINESS MEN OF WORTHAM

LOWRY MARTIN TAKES NATIONAL RECOVERY ACT AS SUBJECT TUESDAY NIGHT

WORTHAM, Sept. 7.—(Spl.)— [illegible] attendance of fifty mem- [illegible] guests Lowry Martin of [illegible]a, publisher of the Cor- [illegible] Daily Sun was the main [illegible]ker at the regular monthly [illegible]quet meeting of the Wortham Business Men's Civic Club Tuesday evening. A regular routine [illegible] business matters on local af[illegible], committee reports and oth[illegible] matters of interest to the club, presided over by the club president, M. C. Strange preceded the speakers' address.

Outstanding features of this part of the program; were school notes, given by Supt. L. A. Roberts, C. C. Smith, athletic coach, L. J. Young, vocational agriculture teacher and Oliver Burleson, president of the school board. Dean Moody of Westminster College of Tehuacana, brought a brief mention of his attendance at the cotton meeting in Dallas. Sept. 16 was announced as Wortham's next Trades day, also the changing of time of Wortham's Community Fair to Sept. 27-30.

The local program concluded with two piano solos played by Lillie Roark Meador, Wortham's young artist.

The speaker of the evening was introduced by Editor Satterwhite of the Wortham Journal, who presented Mr. Martin as our distinguished guest not only recognized as the publisher of the of the best newspapers of the state, but also as past president of the state Press association, and member of the National Press committee, and a leader in his home town and state.

Corsicana Friendship to Wortham

Mr. Martin expressed his appreciation of the introductory remarks, and pleasure of meeting with his neighbor town, Wortham of its close association with Corsicana, brought even closer by the highway, fellowship business relations of many years, and many issues. He further pledged Corsicana's interest in Wortham and all that would be needed to let Corsicana know in time. Mr. Martin, going into his address, attributed "this miserable depression through which we are passing to disobedience to God's law that crept upon us in the darkness of the night, the war that we have never gotten over, although we had the victory."

The speaker said the necessity for the NRA "reminds me more of a post-graduate course in some of our universities, which we have taken upon ourselves in national drastic preparation to refresh our memories." Mr. Martin refered to the last three years as dangerous years, crimes, despair, down-heartedness lost faith lack of courage and almost lost faith in God. "The necessity for change democrats, republicans and everybody blamed but ourselves—you felt, I felt it, the nation felt it—all waiting for something.

Roosevelt Comes.

"As time rolled by it seemed like God's hand—He stepped into the front ranks and gave us our president, Franklin D. Roosevelt, [illegible] cannot help but believe when [illegible] gave us this man, he also [illegible]ed our own congress to give us this war time. He had the nerve the courage, he had common sense to put into this council brain—we might call it the brain trust of this country, which reminds me of the one hundred memorable days of Napoleon. The American spirit going into this New Deal.

"It is a bloodless war, initiated after well planned regulations. In the creation of this NRA fight we should show us as much patriotism as we have shown in any war, for the fight opened after many weeks of planning and discussion before the government went into this war. An opportunity of a life itme is given for you and I to assist our President."

Mr. Martin referred to that "feeling of ineriority complex—we used to be a good merchant, buyer or seller" in comparison with last few years. "Our President and cabinet, establishes the NRA; we have been allowed certain time to prepare ourselves and get ready for the great fight—you have read the edicts of Mr. Johnson in the columns of the papers. The NRA is a fight brought about by love, a fight in which we must co-operate be courageous, everything that a 100 per cent American must be to win. Do not think if you have a blue eagle in your window, or on your car, that you are doing your part." The speaker enlarged on this thought then declared it was a little man's war giving in further detail the realization of the little man's full benefit.

He also called attention that in this district we have been fortunate, not suffering like those in other areas. Mr. Martin, in conclusion referred to the NRA as "creative with an objective in view; a federal government fight with a co-operative plan for you and I. That the experience of the past will make us better citizens and better Americans; that the greatest wars to my mind was the war between the states, and the NRA war that is now on."

Farley's Son Is Worrying Dad as To His Politics

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 7.—(AP)—James A. Farley, Jr. six-year-old son of the Postmaster general is already causing his father some concern as to his fidelity to the Democratic party.

Mayor Harry Bacharach had obtained three dolls for three Farley children on visit here with their parents, thinking all of them to be girls.

Young James, of course, would not have a doll, so he was permitted to choose something else from a toy shop. He selected an elephant.

You're a fine democrat!" his father chided him.

"I am glad to see at least one Farley pick the right party" said Mayor Bacharach, who is a republican.

Torrential Rains In Monterrey Area

LAREDO, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Reports from Monterrey, Mexico, today said ten inches of rain had fallen there at noon yesterday and was continuing.

Although no flood conditions existed in the city proper, the water was draining off into the San Juan river and then into the Rio Salado which probably will carry a large volume of water into the Rio Grande below Zapata, 70 miles Southeast of Laredo.

Although a rise in the Rio Grande was anticipated south of Zapana, the river dropped back after a four-foot rise here yesterday.

At Rio Grande City, the Rio Grande was rising slowly and was believed to heve been receiving water from both above nad from the San Juan.

relief work. Hundreds were innoculated against typhoid fever at Harlingen and other stricken cities and the injured continued to be brought in to the emergency hospitals for treatment.

C. B. Braun, field director for the Texas relief and rehabilitation commission, said his organization would continue aid to 3,500 persons on relief rolls before the storm and the Red Cross(, with ample food and medical supplies would care for the rest.

Flood Warning.

Harlingen officials had this warning from the weather man: "Stage of river at Rio Grande City at a. m., 28.7 and rising. This will cause a flood stage all along the valley in the next 12 to 36 hours. Please spread this information to all interested parties immediately."

McAllen learned that the customs house at Hidalgo had been moved to higher ground because of the river's rise.

The first casualty in Willacy county came to light today with the report of a party of five marooned for hours on Red Fish Bay on Laguna Madre that Jim Summers, a fisherman at the bay, had been washed away when the strong wind and waves first struck. The others, exhausted, were rescued, placed on stretchers and carried through waist-deep water several miles to land and later were taken to Raymondville.

H. C. Brooks and Harley Byrns, fishermen, reported that there was the possibility of five or six lives lost in the same area. A man named Hennings and his son, a man and his wife and several children were last seen in boats Sunday night. Their camps were later found to have been destroyed and there was no evidence of the boats.

Typhoid Prevention.

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 7—(AP)—Dr. L. L. Lee of San Antonio, who directed the activities of 52 doctors and 68 nurses who were sent from San Antonio Monday night to the Rio Grande storm area, announced this morning that 25,000 mixed typhoid bacterine doses and 5,000 anti-tetanic doses had been ordered sent to Harlingen.

Rail Traffic Normal

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Railroad traffic between the storm stricken Rio Grande Valley and San Antonio began to flow normally again today, trains going through to Brownsville.

The Missouri Pacific Lines announced maintenance of its regular schedule.

EL PASO, Sept. 7.—(AP)—The international boundary commission here was advised today that the crest of the flood in the lower Rio Grande, caused by heavy rains on the Pecos river and other tributaries, will reach Roma, Texas at 1 p. m. today.

The flood in the Rio Grande is not considered dangerous, but if joined by the crest of the flood in the San Juan river, a Mexican triburaty, may cause considerable damage to the already stricken hurricane area, engineers said.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—(AP)—The Red Cross speeded its efforts today to give succor to residents of Florida and Texas who fell afoul of tropical storms which raked sections of those states the past few days.

Upon receiving reports that some 3,000 families in a dozen counties in the West Palm Beach section were in need of aid, national headquarters announced plans for sending roofing into the area at once to restore homes damaged by the winds and water. The needs of the Florida counties were reported by Henry M. Baker of West Palm Beach.

It was reported at headquarters here that relief workers were meeting the situation in all sections in Texas and that contributions were coming in under an appeal from Governor Miriam Ferguson to supplement the Red Cross' $25,000 donation.

To Seek Federal Aid.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Advised that 90 per cent of the citrus fruit crop of the lower Rio Grande valley had been swept from the trees by the hurricane of Monday and Tuesday, Representative Milton West of Brownsville prepared today to seek governmental aid for packers and canners.

West said a plan could be worked out where by loans could be extended packers and canners to permit them to buy vast quantities of unripe oranges and grapefruit left on the ground. Such fruit, West said, while having no value for shipping purposes, could be made into marketable juice.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 7.—(AP)—State, federal and American Red Cross workers today continued the task of giving immediate aid to storm-stricken Florida communities and of beginning permanent rehabilitaiton for each indivdual sufferer.

The number of homeless and the amount of property damage rose as each new report came in but the fatality and casualty list remained the same—two known dead from the storm and only a few injured.

Red Cross records placed the number of families needing aid at 2924 while unofficial reports made to state officals at Tallahassie increased this figure by nearly one half.

Property damage throughout the state remained undetermined but conservative estimates placed it at more than $3,000,000. Citrus suffered heaviest—a loss of about 4,200,000 boxes of the new crop, according to the Florida citrus exchange at Tampa. Celery growers in the Sanford Center said they lost from 20 to 50 per cent of their seed beds.

COUNTY HOME AGENT GIVES INFORMATION INTEREST TO WOMEN

SUGGESTIONS GIVEN FOR USE OF GOVERNMENT COTTON REDUCTION CHECKS

By RUTH McNABB
Navarro County
Home Demonstration Agent.

Money from the recent cotton acreage reduction campaign has begun to trickle into the pockets of some of the Navarro county farmers and it is just as important and patriotic for the people of the rural sections to co-operate with NRA as it is to buy Liberty Bonds during the war days. And these citizens can cooperate by the judicious use of the funds now arriving.

It is a well-known fact that the women of America play a big part in the spending of the family income and the problem of spending the cotton money wisely is the principal one before the women of Navarro county today.

Naturally the first prtion of the money should be used to take care of outstanding obligations, current debts, and mortgages. Then some should be put in a savings account or insurance for future protection.

Also since the women of the county are vitally interested in the "Live at Home' program there should be some attention directed toward permanent improvements in the home and on the farm. The following suggestions are offered for consideration:

1. Home orchards—small fruits that will bear quickly.
2. Make provisions for a sub-irrigated garden.
3. Secure good type of beef animal.
4. Increase the income from the farm poultry flock.
5. Improve livestock feeding and housing facilities.
6. Plant new varieties of vegetables, for example, asparagus, and cauliflower.
7. Improve the sanitary conditions about the place by safeguarding the water supply installing pit type toilets, screening house, etc.
8. Repair gates, fences steps porch and outbuildings.
9. Add needed equipment such as pumps, windmills, canners, sealers.
10. Add storage space smokehouses clothes closets, pantries,
11. Improve the appearance of the place by landscaping yards, painting buildings underpinning, making walks and drives.

CORSICANA, TEX., SEPT. 8, 1933

SCHOOL DAYS.

School days, school days, saddest and gladdest of the year. Saddest for children who, with the first day of school, must bid farewell to the freedom of vacation days and gladdest to mothers who then begin their vacation.

It is hard for outdoor and play-loving boys to return to school, but after a day or two they find that school isn't a bad place to be after all. The three R's are not such a bitter pill when taken with liberal doses of sports, recess games and school-days' companionship. There have been two revolutionary developments in education—free schools and popular schools. Once parents could not keep their children in school. Now they could not keep them out of school. The schools, not the children, deserve the credit.

Mother breathes a sigh of relief when school opens for then she can pack the little Indians off to school and enjoy a few hours of peace and quiet, but when the summer recess arrives she will welcome relief from those two "packings" a day. Teachers who have had practical experience in getting a child ready for school can appreciate what they ask when they urge their pupils to report each session with clean faces and hands, clean clothes, hair combed and teeth clean.

Soon the great trek to the schoolroom will begin and the shouts and laughter will not be distinguished from those that accompanied the equally great exodus last spring.

IDLE SPECULATION.

Sleep, everyone knows, is that state of the body when the normal activity of the nervous system is so far reduced that self-consciousness and consciousness of surroundings are entirely wanting or at a low ebb. But what causes sleep nobody seems to know with certainty nor can scientists agree.

Old theories are that this state is brought about by congestion of blood in the brain, or by lack of blood there, or by auto-intoxication of the nerve cells.

Then there is a new theory just advanced before the British Association for the Advancement of Science. The father of this brain child concludes that sleep is controlled by the amount of iodine in the blood, sleep coming when the amount of iodine is reduced.

These are only theories or hypotheses, it being known only that the protozoa do not sleep, indicating that somewhere in the process of evolution it became necessary if life were to continue for it to have periodic times of rest and unconsciousness.

Insomniacs and scientists can do all the worrying about what causes sleep, those who sleep well, or too well, being content with Shakespeare's explanation that it is "tired nature's sweet restorer which knits up the raveled sleeve of care." Nor would knowing its cause or source do anybody any good unless science found a way of controlling it at the same time. Turning the supply on and off like hot water would be a wonderful thing, especially for mothers on school mornings and employers on sleepy afternoons.

JUST FOLKS

THE SERPENT.

Slithered a snake across the grass
And strangely as I watched it pass
Weird music seemed to fill the air.
An ancient priest intoned a prayer
Within a temple, where a crowd
In curious adoration bowed.

Great serpent heads were carved in stone
With fangs extended, jaws wide thrown.
As true as human art could make
Was graven many a granite snake.
And thousands in that holy hour
Pair homage to the serpent's power.
Then ninety steps above a maid
Appeared in robes of white arrayed,
And to the tom-tom's solemn beat
She walked Death's agony to meet.
A human sacrifice to please
The rain god and his rage appease

Slithered a snake across my path.
I thought of gods that ruled in wrath
And temples long since overthrown
Adorned with serpent heads of stone,
And the blood-lust which made religions grow
Some seven thousand years ago.

The first months taxes from the sale of beer and wines in Michigan reached almost $1,000,000.

APPEAL OF THE PRIMITIVE.

"Wilderness areas" have been defined as regions more or less forested where primitive nature is modified in the least possible degree by human agencies. It is desirable that they have special natural attractions and plentiful game and fish. But most important is the condition that they be free from roads, railroads and settlements, so that they may be preserved in their original state.

The wilderness area idea has received impetus from both the federal and state governments. The federal government has set aside hundreds of thousands of acres for the purpose of preserving the wilderness unspoiled by too much civilization. A number of states are adding to these "forests primeval."

Here are the future playgrounds of America. Here will primitive America live again. Here will new forests stretch their branches to the sky, wild life multiply and mankind glory in going back to nature.

Hundreds of thousands of American men and women hunt and fish. Other hundreds of thousands plan to. Multitudes spend their vacations and holidays in the woods, and there lies latent in the back of the minds of most men the desire to go camping where nature is her wildest. This is the American's inheritance from an ancestry of frontiersmen and pathfinders. The impulse to follow in their footsteps into the little frontier that is left is hard to resist. So the average American places much store by the "wilderness area" idea.

STEAM STILL SERVES.

So much ado has been made in recent years about hydro-electric development that the public had unconsciously come to the conclusion that production of electric power by steam was a thing of the past and that within a few more years the entire country would be served by wires stretching out from huge power dams. The federal power commission now points out the falsity of such a conclusion.

Hydro-electric production is lagging behind the steam electric plant. Hydro-power showed no gain in the last five years, but the output of steam plants increased by nearly 10,000,000 kilowatt hours. This year is expected to show a smaller output of hydro-electric power than last year, due to wider use of steam by power companies.

Government surveys prove that even where water power is abundant and readily available the steam plant is gaining in importance and demonstrating its ability to compete with the hydro plant.

It is still a fact, however, that the highest per capita consumption of electric power is in those regions which have best harnessed the white coal of the waterfall, and that hydro-electric plants have reduced electric rates in some sections.

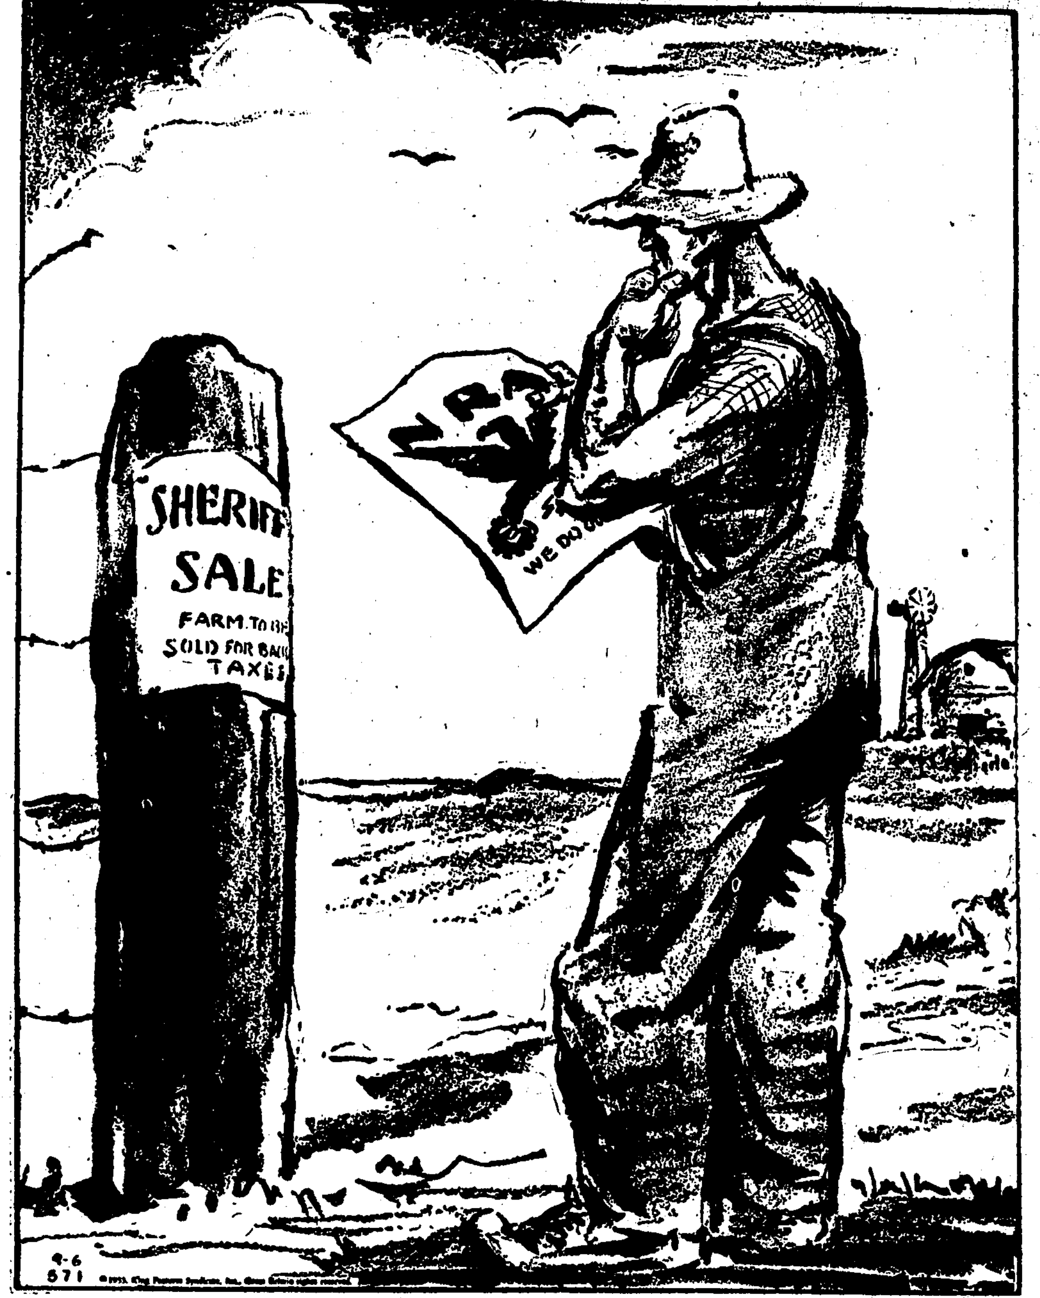
"—BUT WHERE'LL I HANG IT?"

—By Clive Weed



WILL IT BE MILD?

Uncle Sam has been doing some long-distance weather reading and predicts a mild winter for the country as a whole, meaning by mild some such weather as the country has been experiencing for several years.

This prophecy, welcomed by all but the fuel dealers and snow shovel makers, is based on past experience. The federal meteorologist who made it may have guessed wrong but at least his forecast is not without foundation.

Records show that the weather moves in cycles of a few cold years between a succession of warm years. In the past a change from the severe to the mild and vice versa has come gradually so it reasonably is expected there will be more moderation in winter weather this year. The present upward trend in temperature began after the hard winter of 1918, since when abnormal weather has been dominant. That the cycle is not preparing to change is evident from the fact that every month this year except March has brought temperatures above the 50-year mean.

No guarantee goes with the government oracle, so it is too soon for the woodchoppers, coal industry and snow interests to throw in the sponge, nor is there occasion for jubilation among the jobless and those who are still wondering where the money for the winters' supply of fuel and fur coats is coming from. There is no chance of the tropics moving into the northern tier states and no greater probability of the Arctic circle encompassing the winter playgrounds of Florida and California.

PACKERS STATE PROCESSING TAX ON HOGS WOULD BE REAL CALAMITY IN HEARING TODAY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—(AP)—Representatives of packing interests testified today at an agricultural adjustment administration hearing that a processing tax on hogs "of any great amount" would be "a calamity" and "a catastrophe."

They expressed this opinion at a hearing called to receive testimony on the amount of the processing tax to be imposed to defray the cost of slaughtering 4,000,000 pigs and 1,000,000 sows in an effort to aid the producer.

The opinion that a high tax would be a "calamity" came from Thoams E. Wilson, president of Wilson & Company of Chicago. John W. Rath of Waterloo, Iowa, voiced the belief it would be a "catastrophe."

Wilson advocated a tax of 25 cents a head effective Nov. 1, and to continue for three months with higher taxes later if found necessary.

William S. Clithero, representing Armour & Company and the Institute of American Meat Packers, estimated the emergency slaughtering program would cost the government approximately $33,250,000, or more, he said, than many former estimates.

He advocated the imposition of a 25-cent a head tax from November to January, inclusive, to bring in $4,000,000; 75 cents a head from February to April, to provide $9,300,000; $1 a head from May to October, to return $21,762,000; and a floor tax of 15 cents per 100 pounds over the entire period, to give $1,200,000.

He said this would total approximately $36,000,000 and that the extra amount could be used in paying bonuses or any unexpected costs of oepration which might arise.

Wilson said if a high tax were announced "we would have an unprecedented dumping of the product on the market."

"Packers would attempt to get out from under those conditions and would break the market," he said.

"That would immediately reflect itself in the price of livestock."

He expressed the opinion that any improvement from the emergency program would not be felt before early next year.

GOVERNOR BILL MURRAY PUT ON SPOT BY GOVERNOR MARTIN OF WASHINGTON—HITCH HIKING

OLYMPIA, Wash., Sept. 2.—(AP)—Clarence D. Martin's crusade against high gasoline prices has made him a proficient hitch-hiking governor.

Declaring the big oil companies were overcharging the consumers, the governor shortly after his inauguration began to "bum" rides on his frequent inspection trips across the state. Today it is a common occurrence for the chief executive and the head of the highway department, or one of the other state executives to jerk their thumbs figuratively in the direction they want to go until they get a lift.

"I can't afford to drive my car, that's why I hitch-hike," said the governor. "There's no doubt that a conspiracy exists, and sometimes I think people of the state ought to go on a strike and leave their cars in the garage for a few days."

The executive attended the annual state convention of county commissioners at Wenatchee Friday and told them how he gets along on $1.50 a day for expense money.

"I can't afford to buy gasoline at the present price," he said, "so I hooked a ride over here. We brought our own lunch with us. When I got to the hotel here last night they didn't have a room left. But I couldn't afford to pay $4 or $5 anyhow, so we hitch-hiked to your committee room, got some blankets, and we slept on the tables and some cots. We had a 30-cent breakfast."

With him were two high state officials.

"SLEEPING SICKNESS" VIRUS IS IMPORTANT FINDING WOMAN PATHOLOGIST AT ST. LOUIS

ST. Lous, Sept. 2.—(AP)— Discovery by a woman pathologist of the presence of filterable virus in the bodies of "sleeping sickness" victims was acclaimed today as the first important finding in science's effort to seek a cause or cure for the puzzling disease which has taken 55 lives here in the last five weeks.

The woman is Dr. Margaret G. Smith, assistant professor of pathology at the Washington University School of Medicine and a graduate of Johns Hopkins University.

Her findings were announced at a meeting last night of the St. Louis Medical Society, which was attended by nearly 1,800 persons who were interested in learning something about the epidemic which has gripped the city and its suburbs.

Dr. Howard McCordock, Washington University pathologist, who announced Dr. Smith's laboratory findings, said it had long been suspected such a virus was responsible for the strange malady, but that Dr. Smith's discovery was the first scientific proof.

Determination that the disease is caused by such a virus, Dr. McCordock asserted, does not isolate the cause of encephalitis, but said it narrowed the search materially.

As the number of cases inreased to 726 in St. Louis county and 155 in the city, city and federal health officers issued statements designed to allay fear in the minds of outsiders. They pointed out that there was no evidence that the disease was contagious, and that business was going on the same as usual.

Highway Engineers Here in Connection With Highway 22

T. H. Webb, Austin, assistant state highway engineer, and D. M. Neer, Austin, right of way engineer both of the state highway department, were in Corsicana Tuesday relative to plans on state highway 22 between Corsicana and Hillsboro. Mr. Webb went to Hillsboro Tuesday morning and is scheduled to return to Corsicana during the afternoon.

Local officials had not been advised of any new developments or new plans for the scheduled letting of contracts on Highway 22 early Tuesday afternoon, it was stated.

OPENING DAY OF CITY SCHOOLS IS DEFINITELY SET

CLASSES WILL BE RESUMED ON SEPTEMBER 18; YEAR'S CALENDAR IS ADOPTED

Monday, Sept. 18, was definitely set as the opening day of Corsicana's schools at a meeting of the board of education Wednesday morning, when the school calendar for the entire year was set. In addition to the Christmas holidays, the children will be allowed five other holidays during the 1933-34 year.

"Because some delinquent taxes are being paid, in anticipation of others being paid soon, and because the Corsicana city commission yesterday passed an ordinance calling for a special election soon which will assist the school board greatly in taking care of the school situation, we felt justified in setting Monday, Sept. 18, as the opening day of the Corsicana schools," it was stated Wednesday, following the board's meeting.

The local schools are affiliated with the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, and to keep in good standing they must be in session for 175 days during the year.

Calendar Adopted.

Following is the calendar as adopted at this morning's meeting of the board of education:

Opening day of school, September 18, 1933.

Armistice Day, Nov. 11, 1933 (Saturday).

Thanksgiving holidays, Nov. 30 and Dec. 1, 1933.

Christmas holidays, Dec. 23, 1933—Jan. 2, 1934.

Midterm, January 22-26, 1934.

Washington's Birthday, February 22, 1934.

Interscholastic League Day.

Final examinations, May 28-31, 1934.

Commencement exercises, June 1, 1934.

(If it appears necessary, an additional holiday may be given during the fall term in which event the schools will be in session on one Saturday).

NEXT TO LAST OF KIRVEN CONFEDERATE VETERANS IS DEAD

KIRVEN, Sept. 6.—(Spl.)—T. J. Batchelor, one of two surviving Confederate veterans here, passed in final review before the Great Commander Sunday and went to join his General, Robert E. Lee of whom he never tired talking.

Funeral services were conducted from the First Baptist church Monday afternoon with interment in the Cotton Gin cemetery. Rev. R. L. Nash of Mexia, pastor of the church here of which deceased was a faithful member held the services at the church after which the Masonic lodge took charge.

Mr. Batchelor, who had been confined to is bed for eleven months, would have been eighty-nine years of age October 14. He served throughout the Civil war and delighted in reminiscing over the battles in which he took part. He was a Mason and an Eastern Star—probably the oldest Mason in the county.

Surviving are his wife, one son, and four daughters and a number of grandchildren. Mrs. Jim Sessions of Fairfield, wife of Sheriff Sessions, being one of them. The children are: Dr. C. C. Batchelor of Teague; Mrs. Georgia Lenoir of Los Angeles, California; Mrs. J. B. Tims and Mrs. Pete Huckabee of Kirven, and Mrs. Lewis Smiley of Mexia. He also has one step-son, Tilford Jeeter, of Tyler.

The remains were laid to rest amid a flower banked sepulchel in the Cotton Gin cemetery near Mexia.

Oil Heiress Now Fears Kidnaping; Guard Requested

LEWISTON, Me., Sept. 5.—(AP)—Fear of kidnaping added today to the woes of the Former Janet Snowden, oil heiress whose romance with an Italian prince collapsed after five days of married life.

Sheriff David Walton disclosed last night that the 19-year-old princess, bride of Prince Di Sirignano Don Francesso Caravita, had obtained police protection after receipt of a mysterious note.

She and the prince were married in New York Aug. 17. Five days later she left him, saying the marriage was "a mistake" and that she did not love him. She came to Poland Spring to confer with her mother, Mrs. Walter S. Davidson, about an annulment.

Shortly afterward, the sheriff said, a threatening note was received by her stepfather, Commander Walter Sherman Davidson, U. S. N., retired.

The princess appealed to the sheriff, saying:

"For reasons best known to me I feel that I should call upon you for protection against physical harm, and for protection against agencies that might seek to restrict my freedom of action."

The sheriff and an assistant spent two days at Poland Spring guarding the princess, and when she left on Aug. 27, presumably for New York, an armed guard accompanied her.

CORSICANA MAN SKIRTED VALLEY STORM ALL DAY

[illegible]ARLETON SPEED GIVES [illegible]-WITNESS DESCRIPTION OF HURRICANE

[illegible] following eye-witness dis[illegible] of the Valley storm has [illegible]ived by the Daily Sun [illegible]rleton D. Speed, Jr., well [illegible] Corsicana geologist:

[illegible] spent Saturday and Sunday [illegible]ght with my people near McAllen. I had business in Harlingen Monday morning and I drove there early. In Harlingen the people seemed to think that the storm was to hit near Corpus Christi and had not gone to any particular trouble to board up the plate glass windows of the stores and offices.

I left Harlingen about 10 a.m. and at that time there was a lull in the wind. Winds with hurricane force struck Brownsville about 11 a.m., yet I could see no signs of clouds as I left Harlingen some 25 miles north of Brownsville. I left Edinburg at noon for Corpus Christi and Refurio where I had an appointment. Before I got to Falfurrias I ran into such strong winds coming from the northwest that my car was nearly blown from the highway and by the time I got to Alice I met cars in large numbers with entire families. One car contained a young boy about twelve years old that had been through one storm before that had left him mentally deranged, so I was told. At Alice I was rerouted as part of the causeway had been washed out between there Corpus Christi.

Preparing for Storm

From Alice north the railroad section hands were busy nailing boards over the windows of all the railroad properties. In each town that I passed through the substantial buildings were crowded with people waiting for the storm to hit. At Sinton just north of Corpus Christi there were Mexicans crowded in every corner of the court house. As I passed through the new Greta oil field every operator was busy placing additional guy wires on the dericrks and most of the nineteen active operations were shut down and had their lights on although it was 5 p.m. At the ranch house four miles north of the oil field the rancher with whom I had an appointment had just finished guying down all of his windmills. He informed me that he had just talked to the weather bureau operator and that he advised that the storm would be the most severe in many years.

Spirited Storm.

There was one thing that I noticed during the day that was of particular significance to me and that was the change of direction of the wind. Having spent considerable time studying high and low pressure areas while a geological student I noted that there was a lull from Harlingen toward McAllen, from McAllen north to Falfurrias there was a very strong wind from the northwest, from Alice east for some distance the wind was from the north and [illegible] strong and from Skidmore on the wind was from the northeast. The northeast wind had a particular significance in that it meant that the storm was changing its course to the west, north-[illegible]. I probably was the only one that had skirted the storm all day and the change of direction was apparent to me when it would not have been to any one living in any one particular area. I informed the proper authorities of this change when I reached Refurio. From Refurio to Victoria I faced a heavy rain that was coming almost horizontally. The rain had such a velocity that when I stuck my hand out the rain drops hitting my hand felt as though they were small needles piercing the skin.

Hotels Crowded.

Between Refurio and Victoria a number of Mexican ranch hands had thoughtlessly barricaded themselves and their families under a small bridge. How they survived the high waters that must have swept under the bridge that night I do not know. Driving on into Victoria I got the last room in the Denver Hotel. Families from Corpus Christi and within the town of Victoria had taken most of the available rooms in this hotel fearing hat their homes would not stand the storm. The postoffice across the street from the hotel housed as many Mexicans as could lie down on its floors. The county court house at Victoria resembled a large Mexican hotel with Mexicans hanging out of every window and crowded into every space available.

I have had in a long distance call for McAllen for 24 hours in order to talk to my mother and father but have been unable to get a line through. Ben Miller, Banks Miller and several other Corsicana people live in the stricken area but I do not think that they will be in danger as each live in substantial brick homes that will probably withstand the storm.

Hill Billies at Palace Saturday

Sid Grauman, the veteran showman of the Pacific Coast, persuaded Glen Rice to place his Beverly Hill Billies on the stage of the Chinese theatre. Graumans' keen judgment of entertainment once more proved that he could pick a winner, as the Beverly Hill Billies have become one of the really great stage attractions in America today. The success of the Hill Billies reads like a fairy tale. Two and one-half years were spent appearing in theatres in Southern California and more than two million people paid admissions to see and hear these quaint mountaineers.

Glen Rice, who discovered and placed the Hill Billies on the radio and stage amassed a fortune with the personal appearances of his famed group. Many other troupes of Hill Billies were formed due to the phenomenal success ofRices organization but only the Beverly Hill Billieshave been able to hold the public's favor.

Glen Rice and his Beverly Hill Billies have established box office records in the largest theatres in Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland, Seattle, Denver and other western states. Manager McCary of the Palace theatre announces that he has completed arrangements for the appearance of this popular organization on Saturday.

Major Hartley, J. M. Howell and T. C. Young of the Teague lodge were visitors.

Canton members from Dallas and Fort Worth were unable to attend to confer the Patriot Militant degree on five local candidates. This degree will be conferred Monday night, Sept. 11.

Mr. Anderson complimented the work being done by the officers with special emphasis being placed on the I. O. O. F. Homes for the aged and orphans. He also reminded the Odd Fellows of the 100th anniversary of the order in the near future.

Ross G. Harris, superintendent of the homes; R. C. Talbot, district deputy grand master, W. T. Parker, and other local members made short talks.

FACE PATTING

CHEERING UP YOUR FACE
The face with sagging muscles is a sad looking face and the owner of it is most likely feeling a little sad about it. Miss Forbes gives a new face slapping method today to overcome this.

You who would want to get rid of early wrinkles (or well formed ones, for that matter), who wish to brace up sagging muscles, so as to preserve the contours of the face, had better learn this new method of face patting or face slapping.

The skin should be washed first—I mean really washed, a lather of soap and hot water and a hot rinse. Then it should be dried quickly, with a hot towel if possible, and while the pores are open, a generous amount of massage cream should be rubbed on. Any sort of vegetable oil cream will do, and in a pinch even cleansing cream, though this is only a lubricant.

Then (making sure the hands have been scrubbed and the nails cleaned), raise your hands to your face, so the backs of the four fingers of each hand rest against the cheek. This brings the elbows out and the arms about shoulder height. Now begin to slap the face with the backs of the fingers. The position of the hands will be such that you automatically slap along the jaw, the lower cheeks and the muscles around the corners of the mouth, where droopiness and dragginess both show.

Also, the motion cannot help but be slightly upward, the slap that is, pushes these muscles up a bit, as it should. A slight change of position and the backs of the hands slap under the shin—another weak point. You must never let those chin muscles sag, for they are hard to get back in place again. But easy to keep there, if you are willing to work over them.

The cream from the face works itself into your finger nails, which is a saving of time, since the nails should be given a lot of cream each day. That's why I suggested you scrub the hands first, for cream into slightly soiled hands makes a dark oily ridge under each nail, which is very hard to scrub out. Wipe the cream from the face and use tonic, and powder.

B. H. J.—The best way to get rid of extra weight is through regulating it through the diet. Fifteen to twenty pounds may be sloughed off easily if you are willing to give up some of the foods that probably brought about the extra weight. By giving up bread, many persons get rid of ten pounds in a few months. If you will go further than that and eliminate all white flour products of other very starchy foods, you can get rid of many more pounds. All the time you will be helping all your digestive processes, with the result that your skin will improve and if there has been any tendency to fullness over the abdomen, it will disappear; in fact your health will be benefitted in every way.

N. B. L.—An exercise for the thighs is done as follows: Stand with one foot before the other as if about to step forward, and with hands on hips squat until you all but sit upon the heel of the back foot, which you will have to turn upward as you take the lowered position. Rise, then squat for ten times, reverse the position of the feet, and continue the exercises for another ten times. Most of the movements will rquite the exrcising of the thigh muscles, and these are very strong and will take a great deal of exercising without tiring.

Tomorrow—Beauty for the New Season.

New York Cotton Steady.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady. Unchanged to 2 lower with steadier Liverpool cables offset by Southern selling. Oct. 9.15, Dec. 9.35, Jan. 9.43, March 9.59, May 9.78, July 9.93.

Business was quiet. December eased to 9.33 under initial selling, or about 2 points net lower, but the market steadied on a renewal of yesterday's late demand for May which local traders again attributed to operations in sed loan or cotton option contracts. This demand was soon supplied, however, and after selling up from 9.77 to 9.82, May worked off to 9.79. Active months generally ruled within a point or two either way of yesterday's close at the end of the first half hour.

Trading became a little more active later in the morning with prices steady on pre-bureau covering and buying attributed partly to local operators. December sold up to 9.42 and May to 9.84 with the market ruling about 4 to 7 points net higher at midday. Another private crop report was issued placing condition at 66.7 and indicated yield at 11,826,000. According to a canvass made this morning, New York cotton exchange members on the average are expecting a crop estimatt tomorrow of 12,352,000 bales.

New Orleans Cotton Steady.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 7.—(AP)—The cotton market opened steady but quiet with first trades three points down although Liverpool was a shade better than due. Prices rallied slightly after the start on rumors that there were again government buying orders in the market and on reports that the recent heavy rains resulting from the Gulf storms have done considerable damage. October traded at 9.11 and December at 9.33, or 2 to 4 points up from the opening and one point down to one up compared with yesterday's close.

Later in the first hour the market was steady and held around the highs. [illegible] seemed disposed to hold off until after the government crop report due tomorrow.

The market ruled quiet all morning with traders disposed to await the government crop report. In the second hour [illegible] improved slightly in sympathy [illegible] firmer stocks and owing to the [illegible] weather map which showed continued heavy rains in the eastern belt. October advanced to 9.16 and December to 9.38, or 7 to 9 points above the early lows and 4 to 6 points up from yesterday's close.

Later in the morning, the market eased on lack of support and some pre-bureau liquidation, October dropping back to 9.09 and December to 9.29 or 2 to 3 points under yesterday's close.

The average guess of tomorrow's crop estimate by 92 members of the New York cotton exchange was 12,352,000 bales.

NOTORIOUS BANDIT KILLED IN ATTEMPT ESCAPE PENAL FARM

'JIM YARRELL' SHOT DOWN IN THIRD BREAK AT ANGOLA PRISON

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 7.—(AP)—Hunt Watson, alias "Jim Yarrell" notorious North Louisiana bandit, today was shot and killed in an attempt to escape a third time from the Angola state penal farm.

Warden Long at Angola said Watson was felled before he had an opportunity to run far.

"He tried to get away by breaking out of the line and was shot," he said. "That's all there was to it."

The warden said burial of Watson at the penitentiary was arranged after attempt to communicate with the convict's relatives.

Watson, originally of Beaumont, Texas, was known as one of the most desperate men in the penitentiary. He was sentenced to 9 to 14 years for a Union parish bank robbery in 1931, and escaped April 17, 1932.

FORT WORTH, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Demand was reported as only fair on the Fort Worth cash grain market today.

Prices ranged as follows, basis car loads on track at Fort Worth, freight paid to destination:

Grain Prices Lower.

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Forthcoming official crop reports from Washington threw their shadows over the grain market today, and led to material setbacks in prices.

Almost from the outset, wheat trading was principally in small lots, with quotations tending downward and the day's lowest level reached in the last half hour. Winnipeg reported that hedging sales from rural sources totaled larger than export buying.

Wheat closed weak, 1 5-8 to 1 7-8 under yesterday's finish, corn 1 1-8 to 1 3-8 down, oats 1@1 1-8 off, and provisions varying from 5 cents setback to an equal advance.

Setbacks In Grains.

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Setbacks in grain values took place early today after an irregular start. New buying lacked volume, and traders gace attention to estimates that feeding of wheat to Livestock this season would amount to only 65,000,000 bushels, compared with 138,000,000 in 1932. Opening at 1-2 cent decline to 3-8 cents advance, wheat later underwent a general sang. Corn started unchanged to 1-4 off, and subsequently showed losses all around.

Stock Exchange Is Expected to Resume Saturday Sessions

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Because the governors of the New York stock exchange have taken no action on an extension of the Saturday holidays, Wall Street today expected that the market would be open Saturday of this week, unless the officials should decide otherwise in the meantime.

The week-end holidays began July 29 to extend htrough September 2, to relieve the pressure on brokerage firm clerical staffs incident to heavy trading. Volume of business has since decreased sharply.

FINANCIAL MARKETS DRIFTED LAZILY IN LOW EBB OF TRADING

RAILROAD SHARES MOST ACTIVE IN IRREGULAR MARKET THURSDAY

NEW YORK, Sept. 7—(AP)—With traders uncertain as to forthcoming economic developments and price trends, there was only faint interest displayed in the stock market today. While a few issues were steady to firm, the majority of listed equities were inclined to sag. The close was easy. The volume of transactions dwindled to approximately 950,000 shares.

BY VICTOR EUBANK
Associated Press Financial Writer.

NEW YORK, Sept 7.—(AP)—Financial markets drifted lazily today with trading interest at the lowest ebb in the past several months. Grains and cotton moved narrowly. Bonds did little. The dollar was mildly irregular in foreign exchange transactions.

Union Pacific shares got back some 2 points of their yesterday's loss, Southern Pacific dropped 2, but Santa Fe, New York Central and Baltimore and Ohio were slightly higher Small gains were recorded by American Telephone, Woolworth, U. S. Smelting, Allied Chemical, Sears Roebuck and Chrysler. Standard Oil of New Jersey and Seaboard Oil were up 1-4 and 2 points respectively. U. S. Steel, Western Union, American Can, Deere, Montgomery Ward, General Motors and a number of others were a bit lower. Most of the alcohols were easy

Financial observers were puzzled over the recent actions of the securities markets. Proponents of currency inflation as a means of further aiding the recovery program believe that something will be done on this matter soon. At the same time, some analysis point out that any immediate inflationary move is not likely because of the administration's refunding plans which are understood to contemplate the conversion of a sizeable portion of the huge short-term debt as well as part of the outstanding liberty loans.

Curb Irregular.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7—(AP)—Except for further gains by the oil shares, curb stocks showed little inclination to move away from recent irregularity today.

Developments in the petroleum industry incident to code operation including the higher prices for crude and advancing gasoline markets in many sections, attracted fair buying to the oil section, Humble quickly rose around 3 points while Gulf and Indiana were up more than one each.

Power and light issues appeared to have been slightly affected by the smaller percentage gain over a year ago shown in last week's electricity output figures. American Gas and Electric, quoted ex dividend, dropped a point at the opening and failed to show much recuperative power. Electric Bond and Share eased

Miscellaneous firm spots included Celluloid, Crowley Milner, Hiram Walker, Sterling Products and Swift International.

VACATION RESUME AND MUSIC FEATURE CIVITANS LUNCHEON

REV. P. MARTIN BAKER AND MISS LILLIE ROARK MEADOR ENTERTAINERS

Experiences and lessons learned on his recent vacation trip to the mountains, and to the coast, were given members of the Civitan club at its luncheon meeting Thursday at the Navarro hotel by Rev. P. Martin Baker. Miss Lillie Roark Meador, versatile Wortham musician, gave the first portion of the program, in two piano selections and two vocal solos.

Dr. E. P. Norwood and L. C. (Bridge) Morgan had charge of the program. President Marvin Thomas named Ed. Rittersbacher and C. T. Banister as next weeks' committee.

Miss Meador's two piano selections were "Concert Etude", by McDowell, and "Spring Song" by Leibling. Her vocal numbers were "The Sunshine of Your Smile" by Ray, and "Love Sends a Little Gift of Roses" by Openshaw. Miss Meador was accompanied in her vocal numbers by her teacher, Mrs. John Munroe, of Wortham.

No Need To Hurry.

The Rev. Mr. Baker defined humorously a vacation, and further declared that one sees new things, and has new experiences. He gave a number of reasons why a person should not hurry, and summarized this portion of his talk with these words: "Lots of times we start out in a big hurry to do things, and it is of no use. Don't tear your hair, trying to hurry things, but do them nomally, and delibeately and they will be finished sooner."

The speaker gave a humorous description of a portion of his trip to Cloudcroft.

"We did not go to the Century of Progress but out into the open, and saw the Progress of the centuries, the beautiful creations of God, and enjoyed calmness and meditation and refreshed our memories of the reassurances of life. It made us think anew that 'this is my Father's world' and believe again that God will lead his people out into greater things.

The Rev. Mr. Baker told of his return trip through the Davis mountains, and described Texas' beauties. He described a number of fishing experiences on the gulf, and drew the conclusions that the worst thing young men can do after failures is to become discouraged. In closing, the speaker said people should come into a finer appreciatien of people, should have more faith in each other.

CHICAGO SWAMPED WITH PIGS MARKED FOR GOVERNMENT

LIFT EMBARGO RESTRICTIONS PARTIALLY AT FORT WORTH ON FRIDAY

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Mounting receipts of pigs, shipped here for the government to purchase and slaughter, today had carried arrivals far past the number that could be cared for by the licensed packers and the pens were filled with 38,000 that could not be handled, some of them on hand since the first of the week.

Arrivals today totaled 75,000 pigs. Yesterday's supply was 65,000 and today 40,000 more were yarded with trucks and trains still pouring them in.

No more permits for shipment this week will be issued.

Rigid Regulations Ft. Worth Receipts

FORT WORTH, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Shippers contemplating sending pigs to the Fort Worth market for sale to the government under the hog-reduction plan were warned today by A. A. Lund, market chairman under the agricultural adjustment administration, to send only pigs for which permits have been already issued by Fort Worth commission men.

Lifting of the embargo on government pigs, effective Thursday midnight, was announced by Lund early Thursday morning.

would be no intervention by America. But all sections of the more conservative political groups considered intervention inevitable unless there was an aburpt change in the tense situation.

Among these latter factions were members or the ABC secret society, the followers of former President Mario G. Menocal, and a considerable part of another important revolutionary body, the OCRR, among whom fears of a counter-revolution were expressed.

In the face of this acute crisis the administration—a five man junta set up after soldiers, sailors, and national police ousted commissioned officers and obtained the resignation of Presdent De Cespedes' month-old provisional government—courageously tackled head-on its most dangerous problems.

It secretly resolved to disarm all civilians and began to try to restore to their former positions officers ousted Monday night and Tuesday morning.

Impartial observers believed that neither effort would be crowned with success.

Unnumbered thousands of students, ABC members OCRR men and others have pistols and rifles and machine guns, for which ammunition was issued in large quantities from the barracks Monday and Tuesday.

Army Problem Difficult.

During the present crisis, it is generally believed, these men will not give up their weapons unless forced to do so.

The Army problem was even more difficult. It was learned last night that a considerable difference of opinion obtains in the rank and file of the army regarding the wisdom of their coup, and a disposition of several detachments to back track, to recall the deposed officers, and to ask the restoration of the De Cespedes government was expressed.

Military units at Camp Columbia, origin of the movement for a "purely revolutionary government," at San Ambrosio barracks, and at Camaguey were reported divided on the course of events.

It was considered significant that Sergeant Fulgencio Batista, a leader in the anti-Cespedes revolt, and others of the executive commission now in power refused to give out the total number of officers subject to re-instatement nor any of their names.

Credence to reports was lent by the refusal of many officers to re-assume their commands, preferring to await developments.

The commission met a long time last night. When the session ended at 1:05 a.m., they announced that complete order reigned throughout the island. Ramon Grau San Martin, a junta member, said the long-closed University of Havana would be re-opened Oct. 1.

To Reinstate Officers.

Sergeant Batista told the Associated Press that the deposed officers would be re-instated according to a selective process, in which only those having the confidence of the soldiers and the people would be retained, and that the highest rank would be that of lieutenant colonel.

The officers' reluctance was explained by the belief that none of them is willing to compromise his position by accepting the new movement.

In the presence of an Associated Press representative Sergeant Batiste received several of the younger officers, privates, corporals, and sergeants. They saluted him solemnly as chief of the army. Their demeanor was not enthusiastic.

For an unexplained reason a strong guard was placed on all four sides of the presidential palace at 3 a.m.

Factions Agitated.

Rumors circulated freely that all revolutionary factions—opponents of the Gerardo Machado regime, which toppled Aug. 12 and gave way to the short-lived De Cespedes regime—were in a state of intense agitation.

Scores of automobiles went to and from the residences of Menocal and Colonel Carlos Mendieta, prominent opposition leaders, and ABC headquarters constantly throughout the night.

Of the 150 members of the American colony who had taken refuge in the National hotel, designated American territory, all but 40 returned to their homes last night, but this number today had been increased to 60.

Sailors from the United States destroyer McFarland had not landed early today. The American destroyer Sturtevant was lying by at Santiago, where strikes, reportedly inspired by communists, continued.

rus growers were practically ruined and the crop, which was about ready for harvesting, will be practically a total loss.

"The people in both the cities and on the farms now face a heart rending condition. Their homes are either wholly or partially destroyed. The crops are gone and this means that their income is gone. These people must be given aid from every agency that can in any way assist.

"They will be destitute for a long period. Those of us who escaped the horrible experiences of our neighbors in the valley cannot realize how fortunate we are. Consequently I feel that Texas and the nation will rally and aid these courageous people in every possible manner," the mayor said.

FORD

against collective bargaining by employes, and consent to some degree of supervision by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, administrative agent of the code. The latter is a sticking point, for in line with its policy of absolute independence, the Ford company is not a member of the N.A.C.C.

The Ford minimum wage, $4 for an eight-hour day, already is above the 48-cents-an-hour minimum prescribed by the code and Ford officials have revealed that a revision is in progress, stepping up the minimum for most workers to $4 80 for an eight-hour day.

In some quarters that was interpreted as laying the groundwork for a possible reduction in working hours to the figure set by the code, without curtailing the income of the workers but that was pure conjecture. At 60 cents an hour, an employe would draw $21 for a 35-hour week, compared to $20 for a 40-hour week at 50 cents an hour.

Bailey Is Taken To Oklahoma City Jail; Escape Probe Started

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 5.—(AP)—Stone walls and steel bars which have failed to hold Harvey Bailey, alleged plotter of spectacular crimes and prison breaks, were reinforced today by keen eyes and ready machine guns to keep the word of Joseph B. Keenan, director of the nation's anti-gangster campaign, that he never again would escape jail with his life.

The steel doors of the Oklahoma county jail clanged shut behind Bailey last night scarcely a dozen hours after his startling escape from the county jail at Dallas, Texas, by means of a pistol which Bailey said he found in the mattress of his bunk.

The result of his daring break, the only successful one ever made there, was to hasten his removal to Oklahoma City to face charges of plotting the kidnapping of Chas. F. Urschel, oil millionaire, for $200,000, one of the largest ransoms ever paid. The trial is set tor Sept. 18. Bailey probably will be ararigned today or tomorrow.

Meanwhile, authorities at Dallas launched a thorough-going investigation of how Bailey obtained the pistol with which he gained his freedom and saws with which he escaped his solitary cell enabling him to surprise a jailer and trusty, who were bringing his breakfast.

Recaptured at Ardmore, four hours after forcing his way from the Dallas jail and kidnaping Turnkey Nick Tresp, Bailey, manacled hand and foot, was rushed here by a five-car varavan of heavily armed officers.

Apprehensive of an attempt to free Bailey at Ardmore, following a tip that members of his gang were awaiting him east of there, federal officers speeded his removal to Oklahoma City, where four other alleged members of the Urschel kidnap ring, already were held

The four are Albert Bates, named as one of the actual kidnapers, and R. G. Shannon, his wife, and son, Armon, on whose Paradise, Tex., ranch Urschel was held for nine days until the ransom was paid, and where Bailey later was captured as he lay asleep, a machine gun under his bed.

Captured at Ardmore.

Sighted by Sheriff Sam Randolph of Love county at Marietta, Bailey was captured by Ardmore officers, who were advised of his approach by telephone, after a chase in which his pursuers fired three shots, none of which took effect.

Although he had a heavy calibre pistol under his left thigh, Bailey made no attempt to resist arrest after hew recked Tresp's car while speeding through Ardmore streets in an effort to eludt the officers.

An hour before the motorcade set out for Oklahoma City, Earl Scott, automobile salesman, reported a well-dressed youth carrying a violin case, stopped his automobile at spot where Bailey was captured and forced him at pistol point to drive northward on the main highway.

As another automobile, ocupcied by two men, approached from a side road, Scott said, the stranger waved a handkerchief, ordered him to stop and got into the other car, which sped northward. The report was taken to substantiate the tip that friends of Bailey were awaiting him.

Wore Nash Handcuffs.

On Bailey's wrists as he was brought to Oklahoma City were the blood-flecked handcuffs worn by Frank Nash, outlaw killed at Kansas City along with four officers, when machine gunners apparently attempted to free him July 17. Bailey is accused in that wholesale slaughter, the St. Valentine's Day massacre of seven men in Chicago, 1929, and the world's largest bank robbery, the $2,000,000 looting of the Lincoln, (Neb.) Bank and Trust company, September, 1929.

He was sentenced to 10 to 50 years imprisonment in connection with the $32,000 robbery of a Fort Scott, Kans., bank but escaped from the Kansas state prison last Memorial Day, with Wilbur Underhill, and nine other desperate convicts, after kidnaping the warden.

Taunting Letter.

While in jail at Dallas, Bailey was quoted as referring to Charles (Pretty Boy) Floyd, Oklahoma desperado, as "small fry," an incident which recalled last night as three men and a woman fled from Enid after a gun battle with officers leaving a letter in their abandoned car addressed to Bailey. It was unsigned but gave the impression it was written by Floyd.

Taunting Bailey with being in custody while "I'm outside," and scoffed at "tough guys" stealing "a harmless man," the letter said:

"I don't carry guns around with me to impress anyone. I carry them as a dire necessity. . . . I know some day I am going to lose but when that time comes, I will not throw up my hands and rely on brains to get me out. I may be a 'smalltime hister' and you the brains of money, a $200,000 lot, still I'm outside while you probably are wracking your enormous brain to beat the chair."

The three men and the woman, reported wounded, wrecked three stolen automobiles in their mad dash toward the Kansas border. They last were reported near Alva where they stole an automobile from a young farmer who stopped to help them out of a ditch.

FLORIDA SUFFERS HEAVY DAMAGE FROM SEVERE HURRICANE

STORM STRUCK EAST COAST AND SWEPT ENTIRELY ACROSS THE STATE

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 5.—(AP)—A trail of ravaged homes, businesses and citrus groves today marked the wake of a tropical storm that struck Florida on the east, swept through the south central portion and blew into the Gulf of Mexico north of Tampa. Damage was estimated above a million dollars.

Communication with the southern portion of the state was still difficult but meager reports disclosed the loss of but two lives. A negro refused to leave his home near Palm Beach as the storm approached and was killed when it collapsed. An amateur radio message told of the death between Sebring and Lake Placid of a flawman when 11 cars of a seaboard Airline train were ditched because of a track undermined by rainwater.

After wrecking small boats and damaging small homes along the east coast from Lake Worth to Vero Beach, the storm swung inland Sunday night and damaged the rich citrus section. Most estimates placed the loss at 80 per cent of the crop.

Winds booming along at from 70 to 100 miles an hour were recorded on the coast but as the storm veered inland it diminished in intensity.

Some 3,000 residents removed from the Lake Okeechobee section were returning to their homes.

Fort Pierce reported $200,000 damage. Costly Palm Beach estates were littered with debris blown up by the storm but most of the homes escaped serious damage.

Sebring, Winter Haven, Haines City, Lakeland, Sarasota and other Middle Florida town all reported some damage although Lakeland and Sarasota said the loss was light.

Typhoon Hits Korea.

TOKYO, Sept. 5.—(AP)—Rengo (Japanese) news agency reported from Seoul, Korea, today that 14 persons were killed, 18 were known to be missing, and hundreds of houses were partially flooded when a typhoon swept southern Korea.

The storm also caused property damage in Western Japan.

Cuban Storm Dead 21.

HAVANA, Sept. 5.—(AP)—A delegation arriving here today from Marti in Matanzas province reported that 21 persons drowned and 150 were injured in last Friday's hurricane.

They urged that aid be sent immediately since 1,000 persons had been made homeless and property damage would aggregate $1,000,-[illegible]

The deaths in Marti raised to [illegible] 150 the toll of the hurricane and violent winds which swept Cuba.

The Red Cross planned to send a committee by plane to survey the area, and government agencies continued their relief efforts.

One government official estimated that 5,000 persons were homeless and 5,000 were starving and said food was available for only 800.

Damage In Bahamas.

NASSAU, Bahama Islands, Sept. 5.—(AP)—Returning from an aerial survey of territory swept by Saturday's hurricane, Sir Bede Clifford, governor of the Bahamas today reported severe damage a Harbour Island.

He reported one killed and three injured at Bogue settlement, a small village near Harbour Island, and less damage than expected at Spanish Wells, another small island.

At Harbor Island 100 yere made homeless, many churches wrecked and all crops ruined, the governor said.

Storm Diminished.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Sept. 5.—(AP)—A tropical storm, now apparently diminished to negligible proportions, moved inland through this area today but reports from surrounding towns showed only moderate winds and rains.

Apalichicola, 75 miles west of a point where the weather bureau said the storm crossed the coastline, reported a wind of 16 miles an hour, and misty rains.

Monticello, apparently in the path of the disturbance, reported an East wind estimated at 35 to 40 miles an hour at 11 o'clock. There is no official wind guage there.

Danger to East Coast Area Past

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—(AP)—The weather bureau said today its information was that virtually all danger to the shore line between Panama City, Florida, and Galveston, Texas, from the two tropical disturbances which struck both states had passed.

Strong winds were felt at Galveston from the hurricane which centered on the Brownsville section, but they were mild compared to the blow South of Corpus Christi, down the Texas coast and apparently did little damage.

As this storm passed inland, the disturbance which swept over Florida also left the sea with its center passing near Thomasville, Georgia. It had, however, diminished in intensity quite a bit, and during the mornng warnngs were changed to small craft for the area between Tampa and Cedar Keys.

The weather bureau said it had no reports of othre tropical storm moving toward the United States coast line from the Caribbean area, although the hurricane season is not yet over.

Board Members Named.

MILK TRAIN PLOWS INTO CRACK TRAIN ON ERIE RAILROAD

FOURTEEN DEAD, TWENTY-FIVE OTHERS ARE INJURED, SOME BELIEVED FATALLY

BY CHARLES E. LANG
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

BINGHAMPTON, N. Y., Sept. 6.—(AP)—Fourteen persons were killed and 25 others injured, some of them so seriously they are expected to die, as a milk train plowed into a Chicago to New York flyer of the Erie Railroad at the city's eastern outskirts last night. The flyer, on route to New York, had been stopped by a switch engine at work ahead.

All of the dead were taken from a wooden coach, that sandwiched between cars of steel and three cars from the end of the flyer, telescoped like an accordion in the hands of an enraged giant. One moment before the coach had been filled with homegoers, many of them returning from vacations. The next it was a mass of splinters and twisted steel.

Every hospital in Binghamton, Johnson City and Endicott sent ambulances to the scene. Motorists, traveling on a state highway that skirts the tracks where they follow the Susquehanna river, converted their machines into ambulances, carrying injured to operating rooms.

M. H. King of Elmira, engineer of the milk train, running between Hornell and Hoboken, said "I didn't see the signal light in time to stop. It happened too quickly. We were coming around a curve."

At the end of the flyer was a steel car with another next, and the wooden coach of the type known to railroads as "an old 1037," the one from which the dead were taken, third. Ahead of that were other steel coaches, including the diner. Persons in the diner were hurled from their seats in a shower of broken dishes. The impact of the collision split the wooden car like kindling wood. State, county, city and Erie officials immediately opened an investigation to determine:

Whether a signal light had been set against the milk train, and if so, why the engine crew of that train did not see it in time.

Whether the brakeman of the passenger train had proceeded down the track to the rear of the standing flyer.

Whether the milk train crew had received any previous notice of the halting of the passenger.

To Push Investigation.

"We will push this investigation," said Sheriff Charles W. Kress.

William Derigo, a gardner, who witnessed the wreck, gave a vivid account of the collision.

"I had gone to my garden beside the track for my coat when I saw the passenger standing on the track with a freight train switching cars ahead. I said to myself 'that's funny. That's first time I ever saw Number Eight being held up by a freight.

"I saw the brakeman (A. C. Morris of Hornell) and I asked him about the stop. He muttered something and kept on going. Then I heard the milk train coming and saw its light shooting ahead down the track. The brakeman had a red lantern in his hand. He began running like mad in the direction of the milk train, waving his red lantern and I think a white one. I got off the track to watch.

"I didn't hear any squealing of brakes—you know they squeal like murder when a train is stopping and I said "he doesn't see him.' I began to run as fast as I could away from the track. The next thing I knew there was an awful crash, like a mountain falling down. I ran back to the passenger train then, part of the cars were piled up, like a heap of kindling wood. I could hear people screaming in agony, crying for help, and yelling other people's names.

List of Dead.

"I began to pull people out of the wreckage. One little boy was screaming for his mother."

The dead were:

Harry Lannon, 38, Washington street, Susquehanna, Penn. Employed in engineering department of Erie at Hornell, crushed chest.

Donald Burns, Washington street, Susquehanna, employed in Erie coach shop, fractured neck.

Harry Westfall, 44, Brush street, Susquehanna, Erie yardmaster, fractured skull.

Eli Stanaken, 615 Prospect street, Susquehanna, telegrapher shock, internal hemorrhage.

M. C. McCollom, Susquehanna, fractured neck.

Mrs. M. T. Keane, Prospect street, Susquehanna, fractured neck.

Mrs. Mary Bouille, Main street, Susquehanna, mother of Mrs. Keane, fractured skull.

Mrs. Frank Comfort, 110 Columbus avenue, Susquehanna, fractured skull.

Mrs. Arthur Testkey, Universal Terrace, Sssquehanna, fractured neck.

R. Vavrozski, 320 Eckford street, Brooklyn, fractured skull.

Mrs. Anna Muse, Passaic, N. J.

Muriel Muse, her daughter.

Two women unidentified, one of crushed skull; one of fractured ribs and lung puncture.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Sept. 6.—(AP)—Arrests may follow the wreck here of the Erie Railroad crack flyer, Atlantic Express No. 8, in which 14 were killed and nearly 100 injured, 25 of whom were in hospitals, officials indicated today. The number or the names they declined, however, to divulge.

Meanwhile, Coroner Frank J. Hitchcock and Capt. Michael J. Hanifin of the city police began to bring in for questioning the members of the crew of the freight engine whose switching operations forced the passenger train to halt just before it was struck by a fast milk train at the city limits.

VERMONT, DRY SINCE 1852, TWENTY-FIFTH SUCCESSIVE STATE TO RATIFY REPEAL

MONTPELIER, Vt., Sept. 6.—(AP)—Vermont was on record today as the 25th successive state to vote for repeal of the 18th amendment.

A light vote was cast yesterday by citizens of the Green Mouhtain state, long a stronghold of prohibition forces, and by midnight the complete vote of the 248 towns and cities was:

For repeal, 41,220; against, 20,631.

A ticket of 14 delegates, representing each of the 14 counties, will meet at Montpelier to ratify the 21st amendment by which the 18th would be repealed.

Only three counties, all rural in character, were listed in the dry column.

The few prohibition majorities were recorded in the rural section upon which prohibition forces had relied. The repealists more than fulfilled their hopes of large majorities in the larger communities of Western Vermont.

Rutland City voted 3532 to 681 for repeal; Montpelier, the state capitol, gave the wets a 1358 to 535 majority; Burlington stepped in line by 3866 to 1099, and St. Albans, close to the Canadian border went wet more than to 1 by a vote of 1812 to 295.

Barely half the total vote cast in the last general election was recorded yesterday.

A state enforcement act prevents anything stronger than 3.2 per cent beer and wines and despite the action of the remainder of the country, Vermonters must be content with their "3.2" until the next meeting of the legislature, which is not scheduled to convene in regular session until 1935.

Vermont was one of the earlist prohibition states. In 1852 a prohibition law was enacted after a state-wide referendum. It remained in effect until 1902, when it was replaced by a local option act that lasted until the 18th amendment.

Fort Worth Man Dead and Wife Is Critically Shot

FORT WORTH, Sept. 5.—(AP)—W. N. Webb, 64, was killed and his estranged wife, Abba, 62, critically wounded this morning in the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Foshall.

Miss Margaret Foshall, 20, their granddaughter, found the couple after hearing several shots fired.

They were lying near the front door. A .38 caliber pistol was found beside Webb.

Five Men Arrested; Much Beer Seized In Several New Raids

Five men were arrested and approximately thirteen cases of 3.2 beer were confiscated in raids conducted in Corsicana outside of the city limits and at Rice late Wednesday morning and early Wednesday afternoon by Deputy Sheriffs Jack Floyd and J. M. Westbrook.

A quantity of the beer seized was ice-cold when the raiders seized it and transported it to the Navarro county jail.

The search warrants and complaints were filed in the court of Judge Sam B. Jordan, justice of the peace.

The branch office of the National Re-employment Service has also discontinued until Friday the registration of unemployed in the city and county but the registration will be resumed on that date, Mr. Love announced.
